

NATIONAL CROP SURVEY VERY ENCOURAGING

TEN BILLION DOLLAR INCOME IS PREDICTED

O. E. BRADFUTE, PRESIDENT OF
AMERICAN FARM BUREAU, IN

YEAR

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 28.—American
farmers will have a $10,000,000,000
income for the new crop year, O. E.
Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the United Press today. His statement followed completion of a crop survey.

"This is a healthy increase and will be the second consecutive good year," Bradfute asserted. "It is a remarkable jump from the low point in agriculture depression reached in the crop season of 1921-1922 when the farmers' total income amounted to only seven and a half billion dollars.

"While the new crop season is only four weeks old conditions all point to a record breaking year. Last year showed a decided turn for the better in many parts of the country and the coming crop year which ends on June 30th should be even better.

"In 1922 and 1923, the farmers' total income was nine billions. The crop season of 1923 and 1924 brought the farmers nine and a half billions and the crop season which ended June 30th of this year brought around nine and three-fourths billions.

"The bureau figures, therefore, indicate that with anything like favorable weather conditions the coming season will bring into the farm house
more than ten billion dollars," he
said.

Bradfute explained that the farm bureau federation figured the farmers' income at approximately two billion dollars less than the government. The government includes in its estimates the production consumed on the farm.

A bumper crop with high prices
for hogs and cash corn and rising prices for cattle are features which make Bradfute optimistic. This is offset to a certain extent by the
shortage in the hog crop.

"The Pacific coast which last year
suffered from droughts and frost, reports a much better outlook for the new season. The wheat crop is short.
The wheat states of North Dakota,
South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas
will suffer at least a ten per cent
drop over last year's returns.

"The dairy sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan are showing improvement, but these states do not report as good crop conditions as
do the eastern dairy states."

Minneapolis, July 28.—Cars of
new wheat commanding prices 17 to 35 cents over the current September quotations on the market are in the earliest northwest crop movement in several years.

Extreme hot weather of early July
aided in maturing the wheat faster than in recent years. Large shipments following receipt of six cars Monday are expected to begin shortly. The domestic market will route wheat produce this year because the winter wheat crop is not large enough to permit extended exportation, traders declared.

DISREGARD
FOR COURT
ABATEMENT

(By United Press)
Duluth, July 28.—Disregard for court
abatement orders closing soft drink bars where operators have been convicted of violating the dry act has resulted in contempt of court charges.
Federal Court Judge William A. Cant
recently followed up his opening
broadside of heavy sentences imposed
on liquor defendants with abatement orders closing soft drink parlors in this section. Monday four men were arraigned in federal court on contempt charges following their refusal

COOLIDGE READY
IN MINE STRIKE

WORKERS AND OPERATORS ARE WARNED OF PERIL TO IN-DUSTRY

A RAISE IN COAL
PRICES

Swampscott, Mass., July 28.—A warning from Pres. Coolidge to anthracite miners and operators that they can save their industry from ruin only by settling their difficulties without a strike was seen here today in a statement issued by John Hayes Hammond.

Hammond, chairman of the government's fact finding commission,
which investigated similar anthracite
problems in 1923, advised the public to lay in coal reserves, but without hurried buying which would result in high prices.

Hammond has held several conferences with Pres. Coolidge at the summer white house on the subject and
the president has been depending largely upon him for expert opinion
in this matter.

Pres. Coolidge is prepared to intervene if necessary, Hammond said,
but the executive believes the disagreement over wages and working conditions should be settled within
the industry.

If a strike should come after Aug.
31, when the miners' contract with
the operators expires, it will be of
short duration, Hammond predicted,
because a long drawn out stoppage
of operations would be "ruinous" to
the industry.

The public would use bituminous
coal and other fuels as substitutes
for anthracite, and the demand for
this product would decrease greatly,
he believes.

STRIKE MAY COME AND GOVERNMENT INTERVENING

Atlantic City, July 28.—A strike
in the great anthracite coal fields
will be called and the government will step in, according to every indication today as the miners' and op-
their conference in what is apparently a futile effort to arrive at a basis
for a contract to replace that which expires August 30th. There was an atmosphere of tenseness on both sides
as the conference continued that
made it appear extremely unlikely
the deadlock over the demand of the miners and the counter-demands of
the operators will be broken.

LOCKOUT NEARING

London, July 28.—With England's tremendous threatened coal lockout
only three days away, Premier Bal-
win today sought a compromise
which might prevent this desperate industrial struggle. He was to meet with coal mine owners this afternoon.

AFTER THIS, ALMOST ANYTHING IS LIKELY

Paris, July 28.—Municipal authorities expect the Venus de Milo to
A taxicab driver, Rene Lemellicier,
after striking and injuring a pedestrian, was so sorry about it that he jumped into the Seine in an attempt at suicide. The police pulled him out.

DAYTON TO HONOR BRYAN
SUBSTANTIALLY

NINGS BRYAN UNIVER-SITY

WILL BE A FITTING TRIBUTE FOR HIM FROM THE PEOPLE

(By United Press)
Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—John
T. Scopes, the youthful defendant
in the recent evolution trial, stood
with bowed head today at the bier
of his prosecutor, the late W. J.
Bryan.

The young professor gazed for a
last time upon the grimly set features of the veteran crusader of fundamentalism. There was a few words of respect for his late opponent and Scopes turned away.
Dr. John M. Neal, Scopes' chief counsel in the trial who had been
on a vacation with the defendant
and Clarence Darrow in the smoky mountains, was another who stood
in line today to pay his last respects to Bryan. After them came the simple mountain folk of the
kind the commoner loved and championed.

Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—Dayton's monument to the man who became
its martyr in the cause of fundamentalism may be a William Jennings
Bryan University. Permitted today
to file past the coffin in which lay
the remains of the commoner, the grim features slightly relaxed with
the suggestion of a smile at death, Dayton's inhabitants and hundreds
from other Tennessee towns and cities resolved to carry on the idea
first proposed during the Scopes' trial.

B. Y. Morgan, president of the Dayton Progressive Club and the
other leading citizens of the town called a meeting to take place after Bryan is buried on Friday at Arlington, at which an effort will be made to raise the necessary funds for a fundamentalist university.

"It will be a fitting tribute to the man who came among us, fought his greatest fight in defense of the Bible
and then died in our midst," Morgan
said.

For three hours this afternoon the commoner's coffin will be placed on
the shady lawn beside the cottage
where Mr. and Mrs. Bryan lived during the Scopes' trial. Mrs. Bryan, bearing up bravely through her ordeal, declined an offer to have the
remains lie in state in the court house. Those who came to the cottage yesterday were permitted to view the body, but many who had wanted to pay their last respects
were not apprised of the opportunity,
so this afternoon while members of the American Legion standing guard
with rifles reversed, a long line of Tennesseans, mountaineers, farmers
and business men and women will file slowly past the temporary outdoor bier. Mrs. Ruth Owens of Ohio,
Bryan's daughter, arrived today.

The body will be taken from the cottage early tomorrow morning and
placed aboard a private car at 8:30
A. M. The train which will convey
it to Washington will arrive at the capital at 7:30 A. M. Thursday. The commoner's body will lie in state in the special car which will be on the rear side of the train. A guard of honor will surround the bier. Mrs.
Bryan, her daughter, Mrs. Owens and a number of Tennessee friends will be in the car. Others of the com-moner's children and grandchildren
will go directly to the capital where
on Friday Bryan will be laid to rest
on Dewey Knoll at Arlington.

Bancroft had been ill with an intestinal trouble but was reported within the past fortnight to be improved. At that time his physicians believed that rest would suffice to restore him to health.

Edgar Bancroft was born in Galesburg, Ill., in 1857 and was graduated from Knox college and

RINES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 28.—Governor
Christianson today took a hand in the state department fracas with Minnesota's "big three."

Conferences were held today between the governor and O. P. B.
Jacobson, railroad and warehouse
commissioner, and between the governor and Henry Rines, state treasurer, and A. J. Peterson, budget commissioner. The latter two are members of the commission of administration and finance, whose refusal of salary increases started all the trouble. Later today the governor was to confer with Ray P. Chase, state auditor and member of the conservative commission. Governor Christianson is confident that the disputes
can be settled amicably. "Those things are bound to come up when
such a reorganization is put into effect," he said, "and they will probably be ironed out in conferences."

The embattled department heads
were still standing pat against the administration and finance commission today.

The railroad and warehouse commission has asked the "big three" to reconsider its refusal of salary increases for several railroad and
warehouse commission employees and
until the request is answered no further action will be taken, Mr. Jacobson said.

BRAINERD MAN
VICE PRESIDENT

Chisholm, Minn., July 28.—St.
Cloud was chosen the 1926 convention city and I. E. Baehr of Minneapolis was re-elected for the third consecutive year as state president
at the closing session of the Minnesota State Letter Carriers association here.

Other officers of the state association and auxiliary are:
Ray J. Hall of Brainerd, re-elected vice president; K. J. Whitback of St.
Paul, secretary; N. P. Willner of Duluth, treasurer; and V. B. Artoni of Chisholm, delegate at large to the national convention at Detroit,

'JEKYLL-HYDE' PHYSICIAN ENDS CAREER WHILE AWAIT-
ING COURT ACTION

PLEADS GUILTY TO MANSLAUGH-
ATTORNEY

Minneapolis, July 28.—Dr. R. J.
Phelan, Minneapolis' double-life physician, killed himself at noon yesterday by jumping from the fifth floor
of the Leamington hotel.

Death was instantaneous.

It climaxes a career which has in the last several weeks given Minneapolis the sensation of the year.

A few minutes after noon yesterday, he apparently opened a window,
alone in his rooms at the Leamington stepped to the sill, and out into space.

The body thudded into the pavement five floors below, in a court.
Nearly every bone in his body was broken. A dozen passersby witnessed the leap.

Dr. Phelan was arrested recently charged with illegal operation and manslaughter, as result of the deathbed statement of Mrs. Lucille Barry, 3012 Bryant ave. s.

Investigation developed that although for 20 years he has maintained an office at 328 E. Hennepin ave., and has ministered in highly ethical manner to hundreds of respecting
and respectable patients, he had for three years played a "Dr. Jekyll and
Mr. Hyde" game.

Had Two Offices

He had opened a second office at 1607 Nicollet ave., under the name of Dr. W. T. Stevens, where he specialized in illegal operations.

His assistant in this latter office,
Paul J. Cox, 25, a former bellhop, still is under arrest on charges similar to those on which Dr. Phelan was arrested.

Dr. Phelan was at liberty on $5,- 000 bonds pending his trial. He was married.

In Dr. Phelan's room were found two notes in which he had entered
an informal plea of guilty to the charges against him.

One, addressed to the county attorney, read:

"Please, release Cox. He is innocent and I am guilty."

The other, addressed to Cox, merely said:

"You are innocent and I am guilty."

COX IS HELD
BY THE POLICE

Minneapolis, July 28.—Despite
notes exonerating him, Paul J. Cox, 25, former bellhop is held by police
in connection with the "Operation Clinic" resulting in the death of Mrs.
Lucille Barry. Cox is held under $5,000 bond on a manslaughter charge. He was exonerated in a written note left by Dr. R. J. Phelan before he leaped to his death from the five-story window of a downtown hotel late Monday.

BATTLE

LOEB

(By United Press)
Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—The spirit of William Jennings Bryan spoke
today—as if to take up the battle in the midst of which the flesh had died.

It spoke as a crusader going forth
to battle the "forces of darkness" in behalf of the "forces of light."

It assaulted the fortress of evolution and defended the "old religion"
proclaiming a simple faith in the Bible as the inspired word and the Christian belief as a revealed religion. It likened the Tennessee evolution trial to the trial of Christ before Pilate and proclaimed:

"Again force and love met face to face and the question of 'What Shall
I Do With Jesus?' must be answered.
A bloody, brutal doctrine—evolution
—demands as the rabble did 1900
years ago that He be crucified."

The spirit of the leader spoke
through the text of the speech which Bryan had prepared as the closing argument in the prosecution of John Thomas Scopes for violating the Tennessee evolution law. The speech
had not been delivered at the trial
and before it could be published Bryan had died. It was made available to the United Press today and found
to stand as a remarkable document
of more than 10,000 words, running
the gamut from the most sublime to
the bitterest condemnation of the
"damnable philosophy" which "is
the flower that blooms on the stalk
of evolution."

It ridicules and denounces Clarence Darrow's defense of Leopold and Loeb and cites their case as things
the teaching of evolution leads to.

It calls Charles Darwin the father
of the theory of evolution as a witness and quotes from his writings to show that he started life firm in an
orthodox faith in a "personal guard,"
and that his studies lead him into agnosticism.

One can easily picture the fire of Bryan's sarcasm as the speech reads:
"There is no more reason to believe that man descended from some inferior animal than there is to believe that a stately mansion has descended from a small cottage."

a vein almost prophetic of his own
approaching death as it says:

"There is a spiritual gravitation
that draws all souls toward Heaven
just as surely as there is a physical force that draw all matter on the surface of the earth toward the earth's center. Christ is our drawing power. He said, 'I, if I be lifted up from this earth will draw all men
fulfilled daily all over the world."

TRIO ARRESTED
POLICE IN HOTEL

PAUL MEN BELIEVED
STOLEN

Three men, thought to be connected with an opium smuggling ring,
were arrested by Chief of Police Roy Zierke and his officers in the New Brainerd hotel on Monday evening.

The three gave their names as Frank O'Leary, Nate Gurin and William Morgan. They are between 25
and 30 years of age. Gurin claims to have come from Seattle, Wash.,
the other two gave St. Paul as their address.

Three men, thought to be the
three arrested in Brainerd, drove into Randall on Monday afternoon in a Rickenbacker sedan bearing a California license, and in purchasing a file at the general store short-changed
the clerk when they offered him a $20 in payment of the purchase.

Sheriff Paul Felix, of Little Falls,
was notified, and working under the assumption that the trio were heading toward Brainerd, notified the local authorities.

The Rickenbacker car was found
parked in front of the New Brainerd
hotel, and the three men were located in a room in that hostelry, where they were taken into custody. The three were preparing to smoke opium when arrested. They had sealed the door to their room with wet paper,
so that the smell of the opium would
not get out into the hall and betray them. A large Colt revolver was lying on the bed.

The police found opium in a jar,
and also wrapped in a package as it comes when purchased. A second jar contained some of the drug mixed
into a paste ready to be smoked. A large Chinese opium pipe and other accessories were also found.

large amount of merchandise was
taken, consisting for the most part
of many small articles, including
over a dozen caps for valve stems for automobile tires, several packages of toothpaste, unopened, dress collars
in their original packages, etc. It is believed that these articles were purchased and paid for with bills of
large denominations, the trio using this means to short-change the dealers.

The three men had about $800 dollars in cash with them, a large part of it in paper money of denominations ranging from $20 to $100 bills.
In making an inspection of the automobile in which they traveled, it was revealed that the engine number had
been eradicated, leading to the believe that the car was a stolen machine.

The three were questioned by local authorities, the sheriff of Morrison county, and by a sergeant of
the Minneapolis detectives, but little information of a reliable nature
could be secured. Gurin admitted that he had served two terms in prison on charges of robbery. Morgan claimed that he had only been
with Gurin and O'Leary about two weeks, and that he did not know
their past records or anything about
their history.

It is felt that the trio was traveling with several women, but they have not as yet been taken into custody. They were not with the men at the hotel, but are believed to be in the city.

A federal officer came to Brainerd
this afternoon and took the men to
St. Paul, where they will be held under federal charges under the narcotic laws and probably on other charges, as it is felt that they can be linked up with a number of crimes committed in this section of the country.

(By United Press)
Chicago, July 28.—American
farmers will have a $10,000,000,000
income for the new crop year, O. E.
Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the United Press today. His statement followed completion of a crop survey.

"This is a healthy increase and
will be the second consecutive good
year," Bradfute asserted. "It is a

June 30th of this year brought
around nine and three-fourths bil-
lions.

"The bureau figures, therefore, in-
able weather conditions the coming
said.

Bradfute explained that the farm
bureau federation figured the farmers' income at approximately two
billion dollars less than the government. The government includes in
its estimates the production consumed on the farm.

A bumper crop with high prices
for hogs and cash corn and rising
prices for cattle are features which
offset to a certain extent by the
shortage in the hog crop.

"The Pacific coast which last year
suffered from droughts and frost, reports a much better outlook for the
South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas
will suffer at least a ten per cent
drop over last year's returns.

Wisconsin and Michigan are showing improvement, but these states do
do the eastern dairy states."

Minneapolis, July 28.—Cars of
new wheat commanding prices 17 to 35 cents over the current September
quotations on the market are in the
earliest northwest crop movement in
several years.

aided in maturing the wheat faster
than in recent years. Large shipments following receipt of six cars
Monday are expected to begin shortly. The domestic market will rule wheat produce this year because of winter wheat crop is not large
enough to permit extended exportation, traders declared.

ABATEMENT

(By United Press)
Duluth, July 28.—Disregard for court
abatement orders closing soft drink
bars where operators have been convicted of violating the dry act has re-
Federal Court Judge William A. Cant
recently followed up his opening
broadside of heavy sentences imposed
orders closing soft drink parlors in
this section. Monday four men were
arraigned in federal court on con-
tempt charges following their refusal

DUSTRY

PRICES

Swampscott, Mass., July 28.—A warning from Pres. Coolidge to anthraxite miners and operators that they can save their industry from
ruin only by settling their difficulties without a strike was seen here
Hayes Hammond.

Hammond, chairman of the gov-
public to lay in coal reserves, but
without hurried buying which would result in high prices.

Hammond has held several conferences with Pres. Coolidge at the summer white house on the subject and
the president has been depending
in this matter.

Pres. Coolidge is prepared to intervene if necessary, Hammond said,
but the executive believes the dis-
agreement over wages and working conditions should be settled within
the industry.

If a strike should come after Aug.
31, when the miners' contract with
the operators expires, it will be of
short duration, Hammond predicted,
because a long drawn out stoppage
of operations would be "ruinous" to
the industry.

The public would use bituminous
coal and other fuels as substitutes
for anthracite, and the demand for
this product would decrease greatly,

GOVERNMENT INTERVENING

Atlantic City, July 28.—A strike
in the great anthracite coal fields
will be called and the government will step in, according to every indication today as the miners' and op-
their conference in what is apparently a futile effort to arrive at a basis
for a contract to replace that which
expires August 30th. There was an atmosphere of tenseness on both sides
as the conference continued that
made it appear extremely unlikely
miners and the counter-demands of

LOCKOUT NEARING

London, July 28.—With England's
tremendous threatened coal lockout
only three days away, Premier Bal-
win today sought a compromise
which might prevent this desperate
with coal mine owners this afternoon.

AFTER THIS, ALMOST ANYTHING IS LIKELY

Paris, July 28.—Municipal authorities expect the Venus de Milo to
A taxicab driver, Rene Lemellicier,
after striking and injuring a pedes-
at suicide. The police pulled him
out.

HONOR BRYAN

NINGS BRYAN UNIVER-SITY

PEOPLE

(By United Press)
Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—John
T. Scopes, the youthful defendant
in the recent evolution trial, stood
with bowed head today at the bier
of his prosecutor, the late W. J.
Bryan.

The young professor gazed for a
last time upon the grimly set features of the veteran crusader of
few words of respect for his late
Dr. John M. Neal, Scopes' chief
counsel in the trial who had been
on a vacation with the defendant
and Clarence Darrow in the smoky
mountains, was another who stood
in line today to pay his last respects to Bryan. After them came
the simple mountain folk of the
kind the commoner loved and
championed.

Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—Dayton's
monument to the man who became
its martyr in the cause of fundamen-
talism may be a William Jennings
to file past the coffin in which lay
the remains of the commoner, the
grim features slightly relaxed with
the suggestion of a smile at death, Dayton's inhabitants and hundreds
from other Tennessee towns and
first proposed during the Scopes' trial.

B. Y. Morgan, president of the Dayton Progressive Club and the
other leading citizens of the town
called a meeting to take place after Bryan is buried on Friday at Arlington, at which an effort will be made
to raise the necessary funds for a
fundamentalist university.

man who came among us, fought his
greatest fight in defense of the Bible
and then died in our midst," Morgan
said.

For three hours this afternoon the
commoner's coffin will be placed on
the shady lawn beside the cottage
where Mr. and Mrs. Bryan lived during the Scopes' trial. Mrs. Bryan, bearing up bravely through her or-
deal, declined an offer to have the
remains lie in state in the court house. Those who came to the cottage yesterday were permitted to
view the body, but many who had
wanted to pay their last respects
were not apprised of the opportunity,
so this afternoon while members of
the American Legion standing guard
with rifles reversed, a long line of Tennesseans, mountaineers, farmers
and business men and women will
file slowly past the temporary outdoor bier. Mrs. Ruth Owens of Ohio,
Bryan's daughter, arrived today.

The body will be taken from the
cottage early tomorrow morning and
placed aboard a private car at 8:30
A. M. The train which will convey
capital at 7:30 A. M. Thursday. The commoner's body will lie in state in
rear side of the train. A guard of
honor will surround the bier. Mrs.
Bryan, her daughter, Mrs. Owens and
a number of Tennessee friends will
be in the car. Others of the com-
moner's children and grandchildren
will go directly to the capital where
on Friday Bryan will be laid to rest

BANCROFT
DIED TODAY

(By United Press)
Tokio, July 28.—American Ambassador Edgar A. Bancroft died
here today.

Bancroft had been ill with an
intestinal trouble but was reported within the past fortnight to be improved. At that time his physicians believed that rest would suffice to restore him to health.

Edgar Bancroft was born in Galesburg, Ill., in 1857 and was
Columbia law school, New York.

CHRISTIANSON

RINES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 28.—Governor Christianson today took a hand in
the state department fracas with Minnesota's "big three."

Conferences were held today between the governor and O. P. B.
Jacobson, railroad and warehouse
commissioner, and between the governor and Henry Rines, state treasurer, and A. J. Peterson, budget commissioner. The latter two are members of the commission of administration and finance, whose refusal of salary increases started all the trouble.

Later today the governor was
to confer with Ray P. Chase, state
auditor and member of the conservative commission. Governor Christianson is confident that the disputes
things are bound to come up when
such a reorganization is put into effect," he said, "and they will probably be ironed out in conferences."

were still standing pat against the
administration and finance commission today.

The railroad and warehouse commission has asked the "big three" to
reconsider its refusal of salary in-
warehouse commission employees and
until the request is answered no further action will be taken, Mr. Jacob-

BRAINERD MAN

Chisholm, Minn., July 28.—St.
Cloud was chosen the 1926 convention city and I. E. Baehr of Minneapolis was re-elected for the third consecutive year as state president
at the closing session of the Minne-
tion here.

Other officers of the state association and auxiliary are:

Ray J. Hall of Brainerd, re-elected
vice president; K. J. Whitback of St.
Paul, secretary; N. P. Willner of Duluth, treasurer; and V. B. Antoni of Chisholm, delegate at large to the
national convention at Detroit,

DOZENS SEE MAN WHO LED DOUBLE

CAREER WHILE AWAIT-
ING COURT ACTION

ATTORNEY

Minneapolis, July 28.—Dr. R. J.
Phelan, Minneapolis' double-life physician, killed himself at noon yesterday by jumping from the fifth floor
of the Leamington hotel.

Death was instantaneous.

It climaxes a career which has in
the last several weeks given Minneapolis the sensation of the year.

A few minutes after noon yester-
day, he apparently opened a window,
alone in his rooms at the Leamington
stepped to the sill, and out into
space.

The body thudded into the pavement five floors below, in a court.
Nearly every bone in his body was broken. A dozen passersby witnessed the leap.

Dr. Phelan was arrested recently
charged with illegal operation and
manslaughter, as result of the death-
bed statement of Mrs. Lucille Barry, 3612 Bryant ave. s.

Investigation developed that although for 20 years he has maintained an office at 328 E. Hennepin ave.,
and has ministered in highly ethical
manner to hundreds of respecting
and respectable patients, he had for
Mr. Hyde" game.

Had Two Offices
He had opened a second office at 1607 Nicollet ave., under the name
of Dr. W. T. Stevens, where he specialized in illegal operations.

His assistant in this latter office,
Paul J. Cox, 25, a former bellhop,
still is under arrest on charges sim-
was arrested.

Dr. Phelan was at liberty on $5,- 000 bonds pending his trial. He was married.

In Dr. Phelan's room were found
two notes in which he had entered
an informal plea of guilty to the
charges against him.

One, addressed to the county attorney, read:

"Please, release Cox. He is innocent and I am guilty."

The other, addressed to Cox, mere-
ly said:

"You are innocent and I am guilty."

COX IS HELD
BY THE POLICE

Minneapolis, July 28.—Despite
notes exonerating him, Paul J. Cox, 25, former bellhop is held by police
in connection with the "Operation Clinic" resulting in the death of Mrs.
Lucille Barry. Cox is held under
$5,000 bond on a manslaughter
written note left by Dr. R. J. Phelan
before he leaped to his death from the five-story window of a downtown
hotel late Monday.

CHARGES OFFER
MADE TO SELL
NAVAL SECRETS

Tokio, July 28.—A mechanic in the naval dock yard at Yokosuka was arrested today on the allegation of Frank Jordan of Buffalo, N. Y., an employee of the Otis Elevator company, that he offered to sell Jordan naval secrets.

Yokosuka has a naval station, a dock yard and arsenal.

HARVEST MOON GETS BEST OF

he was arrested by speeding Sunday. For the next 52 Sundays he will be among the congregation.
If he does not attend church, he must serve time in jail, according to the sentence imposed by Judge Manley L. Fosseen.

BATTLE

LOEB

(By United Press)
Dayton, Tenn., July 28.—The spirit of William Jennings Bryan spoke
today—as if to take up the battle in
the midst of which the flesh had died.

It spoke as a crusader going forth
behalf of the "forces of light."

It assailed the fortress of evolution and defended the "old religion"
proclaiming a simple faith in the Bible as the inspired word and the Christian belief as a revealed religion. It likened the Tennessee evolution trial to the trial of Christ before Pilate and proclaimed:

"Again force and love met face to
face and the question of 'What Shall
I Do With Jesus?' must be answered.
A bloody, brutal doctrine—evolution
years ago that He be crucified."

through the text of the speech which Bryan had prepared as the closing
argument in the prosecution of John Thomas Scopes for violating the Tennessee evolution law. The speech
had not been delivered at the trial
and before it could be published Bryan had died. It was made available
to the United Press today and found
to stand as a remarkable document
of more than 10,000 words, running
the gamut from the most sublime to
the bitterest condemnation of the
"damnable philosophy" which "is
of evolution."

It ridicules and denounces Clarence Darrow's defense of Leopold and Loeb and cites their case as things
the teaching of evolution leads to.

It calls Charles Darwin the father
of the theory of evolution as a witness and quotes from his writings to
orthodox faith in a "personal guard,"
and that his studies lead him into
agnosticism.

One can easily picture the fire of Bryan's sarcasm as the speech reads:
"There is no more reason to believe that man descended from some
inferior animal than there is to believe that a stately mansion has de-

a vein almost prophetic of his own
approaching death as it says:

"There is a spiritual gravitation
that draws all souls toward Heaven
just as surely as there is a physical
force that draw all matter on the
surface of the earth toward the
earth's center. Christ is our drawing power. He said, 'I, if I be lifted
up from this earth will draw all men
unto me,' and His promise is being
fulfilled daily all over the world."

signed by visitors.

STOLEN

Three men, thought to be connected with an opium smuggling ring,
were arrested by Chief of Police Roy Zierke and his officers in the New Brainerd hotel on Monday evening.

Frank O'Leary, Nate Gurin and William Morgan. They are between 25
and 30 years of age. Gurin claims
to have come from Seattle, Wash.,
the other two gave St. Paul as their address.

Three men, thought to be the
three arrested in Brainerd, drove in-
to Randall on Monday afternoon in a Rickenbacker sedan bearing a California license, and in purchasing a
file at the general store short-changed
the clerk when they offered him a $20 in payment of the purchase.

Sheriff Paul Felix, of Little Falls,
was notified, and working under the
assumption that the trio were heading toward Brainerd, notified the
local authorities.

The Rickenbacker car was found
parked in front of the New Brainerd
hotel, and the three men were located in a room in that hostelry, where
they were taken into custody. The
three were preparing to smoke opium
when arrested. They had sealed the
door to their room with wet paper,
so that the smell of the opium would
not get out into the hall and betray
them. A large Colt revolver was
lying on the bed.

The police found opium in a jar,
and also wrapped in a package as it comes when purchased. A second
jar contained some of the drug mixed
into a paste ready to be smoked. A large Chinese opium pipe and other
accessories were also found.

large amount of merchandise was
taken, consisting for the most part
of many small articles, including
over a dozen caps for valve stems for
automobile tires, several packages of
toothpaste, unopened, dress collars
in their original packages, etc. It is believed that these articles were
purchased and paid for with bills of
large denominations, the trio using
this means to short-change the dealers.

The three men had about $800 dollars in cash with them, a large part
of it in paper money of denominations ranging from $20 to $100 bills.
In making an inspection of the automobile in which they traveled, it was
revealed that the engine number had
been eradicated, leading to the believe that the car was a stolen machine.

The three were questioned by local authorities, the sheriff of Morrison county, and by a sergeant of
the Minneapolis detectives, but little information of a reliable nature
could be secured. Gurin admitted
that he had served two terms in prison on charges of robbery. Morgan claimed that he had only been
with Gurin and O'Leary about two weeks, and that he did not know
their past records or anything about
their history.

It is felt that the trio was traveling with several women, but they
have not as yet been taken into custody. They were not with the men
at the hotel, but are believed to be
in the city.

A federal officer came to Brainerd
this afternoon and took the men to
St. Paul, where they will be held under federal charges under the narcotic laws and probably on other
charges, as it is felt that they can be
linked up with a number of crimes
committed in this section of the

Thoughts

Everything may be learned—even virtue. We should do everything to let good people have their own way. To be always occupied with the duties of others never with our own—alas! There are those who have only fragments; they have not enough of the material to make a coat. Without duty, life is soft and boneless; it can no longer sustain itself.—Joseph Joubert.

Removing Rust Stains

Rust stains that do not yield to the action of ordinary household scouring powders, should be rubbed with a piece of cloth moistened with a weak solution of oxalic acid. Make the solution by dissolving one teaspoonful of oxalic crystals in a half glass of hot water. If the rust spot is not removed by this treatment the iron is probably combined with the enamel in such a way as to stain it permanently.

BUTLER CLAIMS SUCCESS FOR HIS VICE CRUSADE

PHILADELPHIA

BUTLER SAYS NO TRUTH TO RE-PORT THAT HE IS TO QUIT

The United Press presents here-
with an important and interesting interview with General Smed-
ley D. Butler, Philadelphia's Director of Public Safety, in which
that doughty "Leatherneck" tells
the truth about his prospective
retirement and his campaign to clean up the "City of Brotherly Love."

Philadelphia, July 28.—"I've made
it just twice as difficult for crooks
and bawdy women to raise hell in Philadelphia as it was the day I took charge of the police department.

"And yet, people are betting in the corridors of the city hall, right outside my door, that I will be dismissed
before night. Now the betting is 5
to 3 that I'll be out within five days."

General Smedley Butler of the Marines, now director of public safety
of Philadelphia, thus summed up
the results of his administration to date, in an interview given the United Press. In a year and a half,
crime and vice have been cut 50 per cent, he said.

General Butler, in shirt sleeves,
sat at a big desk, littered with charts
and sheets of paper covered with
breast adorned with many ribbons acquired in his campaigns with the Marines, was flung over a chair.
Charts with zig-zag red and black lines showing the proportion of
hung on the walls of his big room
in the city hall.

Not Ready to Quit
"There's no truth in that story
that I've given up Philadelphia as a bad job and that I'm ready to quit at the end of another six months," he said. "That's all garbled—everything I say is garbled, twisted, distorted, to suit the wets or dries, and
the politicians.

"My leave from the Marines expires at the end of another six months. After that, it's up to the President of the United States whether I stay here. He's my boss.
"I've been here since Jan. 1, 1924,
so this is my second year and I've found out that the people of Philadelphia are no better and no worse than anybody else. The law can be enforced here, provided I have the tools to work with. It's the dishonest policeman who is my chief handicap. Many of the police are dishonest, and are looking for graft. Of course, many of the policeman are very honest men. And again, some of the honest men are afraid. They know I'm only here temporarily, and they're afraid of what will happen
to them after I'm gone. Honesty and courage don't seem to go hand in hand.

"As the Bible says, 'the love of
money is the root of all evil.'

"I'm steadily increasing the number of honest men on the force, and
the more of them we have, the harder the going will be for the crooks."

Bundle of Statistics
The general reached for a bundle
of statistic sheets, to show the trend
of the war on crime. He spread
them out, as he used to spread out
his war maps in the old marine days.
And tracing a blunt finger down
the columns, he showed that there were 478 hold-ups in the first six months of 1923, and only 185 in the first six months of 1925.

In the first six months of 1923
property stolen (exclusive of automobiles) totaled $1,068,000; in the first six months this year the total was $527,000.

The automobile thefts have gone down to such an extent that two insurance companies which withdrew
from Philadelphia because the risk was too great, have re-entered the field.

"The assignation houses have practically disappeared from Philadelphia," said General Butler. "The automobile has taken its place.

"And why is the assignation house
out of business? Here's why. In the first five months of 1923, only three
such houses were closed in this city.
But in the same period in 1924 we closed 74 of them, and in the first five months of this year we closed 19
more."

General Butler went on to give
statistics on bootlegging, gambling, house-breaking, commercialized vice
and other crimes, showing a corresponding sweep downward in each.
"As for bootlegging," he said with

SCENES FROM
BELOVED BRUTE

Film Drama of Open Country

"The Beloved Brute," which will
night and Wednesday, is a picture
of open spaces, the dance hall, the traveling circus and a near-lynching
bee. It features Marguerite de la Motte, Victor McLaglen, William
Russell, Mary Alden and Stuart
Holmes. It is filled with exciting situations that grow upon the moun-

tainsides and plains.

Two brothers love the same dance
hall girl, and one saves the other
from being lynched by claiming to have committed a murder. In the finale the girl saves them both by proving neither of them committed
it. The photodrama is an adaptation from the famous novel by Kenneth Perkins made into a screen
production by J. Stuart Blackton.

a grim smile, "we have 500 healthy pinches a month. I don't mean little affairs where we get only a half pint. I mean real pinches. We've padlocked a million dollars worth
of property."

No Night Clubs

Such things as night clubs, where
you pour your own, are practically non-existent in Philadelphia.

General Butler was reminded of the numerous night clubs in New York.

"How would you like to be turned loose on New York for awhile?" he
was asked.

"No," he cried, throwing up his hands, and then running his fingers
through his shock of iron-gray hair.
"Not New York. This is enough.
When I'm through here, I'm done."

Cheap for $1,200

A western young man visiting New York city thought it would be fine to buy his sweetheart's engagement ring
there. Entering a Fifth avenue store
he was waved from one lordly clerk
to another down a long aisle and at last reached the counter where there was a personage who sold engagement rings. "Here are some rather neat rings," said the distinguished one.
"Small, of course, but in good taste."
Our young friend liked their looks,
but was pained to learn they ran
from $3,500 to $5,000 apiece. He admitted, in some confusion, that he wished something a little cheaper.
Then the mighty one reached into a bin and brought up a handful of sparklers. "Take your pick," said he, politely repressing a yawn. "$1,200 each."
The home-town jeweler sold that
ring.—Capper's Weekly.

Old Superstition

Much quaint, mythical superstition
centers around ancient Dover castle,
which overlooks the English channel.
It is unique among English castles in more respects than one. No other ancient fortress in this country has maintained its practical usefulness so long and no other has been accredited
to the industry of the devil. According to the Bohemian Leo von Rotzmital, "It was built by evil spirits and
is so strong that in no other part of Christendom can anything be found
like it." It is easy to see the reason for this ascription. Foreigners casting covetous eyes on this gateway to the rich lands of England may well have found something diabolical in this fortress frowning down on them.—London Mail.

THE REICHSWEHR AND THE RED ARMY

By GUENTHER TONN
(United Press Staff Correspondent) Berlin, July 28.—A comparison between the Russian Red Army and the German Reichswehr, made by the Defence Minister Gessler in an interview with a representative of the Russian Telegraphic Agency, has aroused lively comment in political circles here. Minister Gessler dis-claimed all knowledge of repercussions of the security negotiations with the staff of the Reichswehr and emphatically denied the rumor that the commander-in-chief, General von Seeckt had tendered his resignation in consequence of the Allies' disarmament demands.

Speaking of Soviet Russia, Gessler declared that both countries were united by bonds of friendship which were all the more easily strengthened as the interests of Germany and Russia did not clash anywhere.

Interested in Red Army
"Moreover," Minister Gessler continued, "Germany is highly interested in the Russian army, the development of which has fundamentally run parallel to that of the Reichswehr.
Both countries, faced with the task of building up a new army, had to fall back upon the tried military experts."

Questioned regarding the destiny of these armies, Gessler replied that their future depends upon finding an efficient formula for welding the new and the old into a harmonious unity.
In this respect the experiments made in the two countries would benefit them equally. Finally Gessler denied allegations that the Reichswehr was permeated by anti-Russian sentiments.

PHILADELPHIA

QUIT

The United Press presents here-
with an important and interesting interview with General Smed-
ley D. Butler, Philadelphia's Director of Public Safety, in which
that doughty "Leatherneck" tells
the truth about his prospective
retirement and his campaign to
Love."

Philadelphia, July 28.—"I've made
it just twice as difficult for crooks
and bawdy women to raise hell in Philadelphia as it was the day I took
charge of the police department.

"And yet, people are betting in the
corridors of the city hall, right outside my door, that I will be dismissed
before night. Now the betting is 5

General Smedley Butler of the Marines, now director of public safety
of Philadelphia, thus summed up
the results of his administration to
date, in an interview given the United Press. In a year and a half,
crime and vice have been cut 50 per cent, he said.

General Butler, in shirt sleeves,
sat at a big desk, littered with charts
breast adorned with many ribbons
acquired in his campaigns with the Marines, was hung over a chair.
Charts with zig-zag red and black
lines showing the proportion of
crimes to arrests, week by week,
hung on the walls of his big room
in the city hall.

Not Ready to Quit

"There's no truth in that story
that I've given up Philadelphia as a
bad job and that I'm ready to quit at
the end of another six months," he
said. "That's all garbled—everything I say is garbled, twisted, distorted, to suit the wets or dries, and
the politicians.

"My leave from the Marines expires at the end of another six months. After that, it's up to the President of the United States whether I stay here. He's my boss.

"I've been here since Jan. 1, 1924,
so this is my second year and I've
found out that the people of Philadelphia are no better and no worse
than anybody else. The law can be enforced here, provided I have the tools to work with. It's the dishonest policeman who is my chief handicap. Many of the police are dishonest, and are looking for graft. Of
course, many of the policeman are
very honest men. And again, some
of the honest men are afraid. They
know I'm only here temporarily, and
they're afraid of what will happen
to them after I'm gone. Honesty
and courage don't seem to go hand
in hand.

"As the Bible says, 'the love of
money is the root of all evil.'

"I'm steadily increasing the number of honest men on the force, and
the more of them we have, the hard-

Bundle of Statistics

The general reached for a bundle
of statistic sheets, to show the trend
of the war on crime. He spread
them out, as he used to spread out
his war maps in the old marine days.

And tracing a blunt finger down
the columns, he showed that there
were 478 hold-ups in the first six months of 1923, and only 185 in the
first six months of 1925.

In the first six months of 1923
property stolen (exclusive of automobiles) totaled $1,068,000; in the
first six months this year the total
was $527,000.

The automobile thefts have gone
down to such an extent that two insurance companies which withdrew
from Philadelphia because the risk
was too great, have re-entered the
field.

"The assignation houses have practically disappeared from Philadelphia," said General Butler. "The
automobile has taken its place.

"And why is the assignation house
out of business? Here's why. In the first five months of 1923, only three
such houses were closed in this city.
But in the same period in 1924 we
closed 74 of them, and in the first five months of this year we closed 19
more."

General Butler went on to give
statistics on bootlegging, gambling,
house-breaking, commercialized vice
and other crimes, showing a corresponding sweep downward in each.

"As for bootlegging," he said with

Film Drama of Open Country

night and Wednesday, is a picture
of open spaces, the dance hall, the
traveling circus and a near-lynching
bee. It features Marguerite de la Motte, Victor McLaglen, William
Russell, Mary Alden and Stuart
Holmes. It is filled with exciting situations that grow upon the mountain sides and plains.

Two brothers love the same dance
hall girl, and one saves the other
from being lynched by claiming to
have committed a murder. In the finale the girl saves them both by
proving neither of them committed
it. The photodrama is an adaptation from the famous novel by Ken-
production by J. Stuart Blackton.

a grim smile, "we have 500 healthy
pinches a month. I don't mean little affairs where we get only a half pint. I mean real pinches. We've
padlocked a million dollars worth
of property."

No Night Clubs

Such things as night clubs, where
you pour your own, are practically
non-existent in Philadelphia.

General Butler was reminded of
the numerous night clubs in New York.

"How would you like to be turned loose on New York for awhile?" he
was asked.

"No," he cried, throwing up his
hands, and then running his fingers
through his shock of iron-gray hair.
"Not New York. This is enough.
When I'm through here, I'm done."

Cheap for $1,200

A western young man visiting New York city thought it would be fine to
buy his sweetheart's engagement ring
there. Entering a Fifth avenue store
he was waved from one lordly clerk
to another down a long aisle and at
last reached the counter where there
was a personage who sold engagement
rings. "Here are some rather neat
rings," said the distinguished one.
"Small, of course, but in good taste."
Our young friend liked their looks,
but was pained to learn they ran
from $3,500 to $5,000 apiece. He admitted, in some confusion, that he wished something a little cheaper.
Then the mighty one reached into a
bin and brought up a handful of spark-
lers. "Take your pick," said he, polit-
ely repressing a yawn. "$1,200 each."
ring—Capper's Weekly.

Old Superstition

Much quaint, mythical superstition
centers around ancient Dover castle,
which overlooks the English channel.
It is unique among English castles in
more respects than one. No other ancient fortress in this country has
maintained its practical usefulness so
long and no other has been accredited
to the industry of the devil. According to the Bohemian Leo von Rotz-
mital, "it was built by evil spirits and
is so strong that in no other part of Christendom can anything be found
like it." It is easy to see the reason for this ascription. Foreigners casting covetous eyes on this gateway to the
rich lands of England may well have
found something diabolical in this fortress frowning down on them.—London Mail.

HE RAISES HIS OWN FLOWERS

THE last flower show of the County Garden Flower society held at the court house, exhibited many beautiful blooms and many commented on the white peonies shown by C. W. Bunn of St. Paul, who is the vice president and general counsel of the Northern Pacific railway company.

"Oh," said one flower enthusiast, "Mr. Bunn probably hires some gardener to carry on flower culture, and that's why he gets such wonderful results."

Far be it that Mr. Bunn has others do the work which he deems a pleasure and real recreation. Mr. Bunn is his own gardener. And peonies exhibited by Mr. Bunn were raised by him.

L. P. Hall, of Bay Lake, president of the county garden flower society, got Mr. Bunn to exhibit at Brainerd, and we quote Mr. Bunn's letter in full, replying to the invitation to exhibit:

"You can have no idea until you go through it how much work is involved in showing flowers at a peony show, and when you consider that I have just been through two of them you will appreciate that I am almost tired, temporarily of course, of peonies. Added to this we had a tremendous rain storm the other night which did a good deal of damage to my garden, I cannot say how much until this evening. I will do my best to send Mr. Mahlum some flowers tomorrow but cannot promise."

Mr. Bunn took high honors and many prizes at the St. Paul show and won prizes at the Brainerd show.

THE ENGLISH COAL STRIKE

DURING the world war we always read Frank Simonds' review of the various battle fronts and he did supply a lot of authoritative information. Simonds now devotes his time to "sizing up" affairs in a peaceful world, peaceful insofar as armament is concerned, but industrial warfare also carries heavy losses.

Britons, says Simonds, are in a life and death struggle to overcome an economic situation that threatens their very existence. The coal industry has reached a condition in which the question is whether to close the mines or continue the industry, paying wages recognized as below the cost of living.

British taxation has reached a scale almost beyond human endurance. Unemployment has vastly increased. Other vital industries beside coal are slumping with an appalling rate. Value of imports has increased over value of exports.

Food must be imported, while markets for exports are far fewer than before the world war. Forty-five millions of people cannot continue to live within the British Isles under existing conditions. But disquiet is already noted because of a voluntary migration, taking place, is removing the able-bodied and worth-while elements almost exclusively.

A tieup of British mines will have its effect on world prices and coal importations from America will necessarily stimulate the price in America. It behooves the Brainerd householder to think of coal in July and Bill Turcotte's coal parade the other night started a lot of people thinking and buying.

KEEPING HOME STATISTICS

WE sometimes pay small heed to the little memorandum books which carry a place for you to write down the size of your collar, shirt, underwear, socks, your watch number, the number of your car and engine, your tire numbers, etc., and at times the value of gathering and preservation of such information comes with peculiar force.

We refer to Frank Jacquemart of Foley. He was about as careless with his car information as the fisherman who thoughtlessly locked the key to his tackle box in the aforesaid tackle box.

Jacquemart is short one Ford coupe, several articles of clothing and his sample case. Car thieves stole his coupe, sample case and all. He could not remember his license number and the car registration card was in the machine.

It pays to keep statistics of your belongings, especially in the automobile line, for the first question asked you by the sheriff, when you seek his aid in finding your car, is car and engine numbers, tire make and numbers, etc. Prompt supplying of such information assists to locate the missing property. By all means keep this data, and if you are too careless, then have the wife or mother do it.

LISTS ARE SOMETIMES NOT UP TO DATE

THE lists for various counties detailing delinquents who have failed to pay their motor taxes, are sometimes far from up to date, and as evidence we recite the experience of C. O. Nelson, editor of the Pillager Herald. As a brother newspaper man he is entitled to sympathy and we hope he can have his case adjusted soon.

"Sixty-three persons in Morrison county have been published as delinquent in the payment of their 1925 automobile tax. Among them is the name of the editor of the Pillager Herald, C. O. Nelson, who is claimed to be delinquent on a Ford touring car. The car in question was burned in a garage fire in Bowlus in May, 1924. The burned tags and an affidavit as to the destruction of the car was sent to the office of the Secretary of State soon after, but that office seems to have lost track of its files and now wants to collect the license on the wreck."

A wrecked car, in the case of Editor Nelson, seems to be more of a liability than a dead horse.

"MORE WINDOWS IN YOUR LIFE"

"PUT more windows in your life," says Dr. Leonora Grant in the Osteopathic Magazine, and her argument is a most convincing one.

Most people should have more windows in their lives. Some have only one wee window, others a larger one, but for those with many windows, the vision is broadened. The teacher should not board with a group of teachers, nor a settlement worker live in a settlement house.

One should meet people whose occupations are entirely different, for there is nothing more narrowing than to talk shop continually.

PAPERS of the upper lake region are regaling their readers with fish stories.

MOTHER RAISES COMPLAINT

To Editor, Dispatch:

My son and daughter six and eight years old came home last night about 8 o'clock, telling the vilest stories about the going ons at the Lincoln school play grounds.

Not long ago I and my family were severely criticised for chastising the lad, for being out until 9:30 o'clock. You mothers and fathers would do more good, by following the same rule.

Residents of the Lincoln community take a walk around said play grounds, wood pile plus fire escape. Find out for your own good what our young generation is doing and learning on said premises.

I did talk to one of the girls that told the young babes you may say some crude vile stories. Said girl was not more than twelve years, and is to be pitied for her ignorance in regards to what every girl should know.

Has mentioned several boys names. A word or two for said boys, may young men, accosting girls of all ages.

Boys, have you no pride? What would you boys do or say if the same words or actions were applied to your sisters.

Could some one enlighten me why said play grounds have no arc light. I for one say down with the demoralizing play grounds.

MRS. R. E. CLARK,
A Lincoln school resident.

The rapid improvement of roads may prove a detriment as well as a benefit to business in the smaller towns. This does not mean that road improvements should stop, but it does mean that the business men of the average village must be "on their toes" to a greater extent than ever before.

For an example: A summer resident of the Nebraska colony on Pelican lake was in town a few days ago and offered the statement that the building of the Breezy Point road was a splendid thing for the business interests of Pequot. Before the road was built, nothing in the way of business came here from the colony, now Pequot business places are getting a large share of it, he said. But it should be remembered that this road has two ends. Brainerd interests see the value of the business that is steadily increasing along White Line road No. 10, and have spent a good deal of time and money pushing the improvement of the south end of it.

While the distance from points on the west side of Pelican lake to Brainerd is two to four times what it is to Pequot, distance is nothing like the factor over fine roads that it is over even fairly good roads, and with the improvement of White Line Road No. 10, it is going to require something more than a good road to keep the west Pelican business coming this way.

As we understand it, the state highway department bases its hard-surface road program upon the vehicle counts on the various trunk highways. Doubtless there is keen competition between different sections of the state for this type of road. Is there any possibility that diversion of a part of the traffic from State Highway 19 from Brainerd to Pequot over White Line road No. 10

THE last flower show of the County Garden Flower society held at the court house, exhibited many beautiful blooms and many commented on the white peonies shown by C. W. Bunn of St. Paul, who is the vice president and general counsel of the Northern Pacific railway company.

"Oh," said one flower enthusiast, "Mr. Bunn probably hires some gardener to carry on flower culture, and that's why he gets such wonderful results."

Far be it that Mr. Bunn has others do the work which he deems a pleasure and real recreation. Mr. Bunn is his own gardener. And peonies exhibited by Mr. Bunn were raised by him.

L. P. Hall, of Bay Lake, president of the county garden flower society, got Mr. Bunn to exhibit at Brainerd, and we quote Mr. Bunn's letter in full, replying to the invitation to exhibit:

"You can have no idea until you go through it how much work is involved in showing flowers at a peony show, and when you consider that I have just been through two of them you will appreciate that I am almost tired, temporarily of course, of peonies. Added to this we had a tremendous rain storm the other night which did a good deal of damage to my garden, I cannot say how much until this evening. I will do my best to send Mr. Mahlum some flowers tomorrow but cannot promise."

Mr. Bunn took high honors and many prizes at the St. Paul show and won prizes at the Brainerd show.

THE ENGLISH COAL STRIKE

DURING the world war we always read Frank Simonds' review of the various battle fronts and he did supply a lot of authoritative information. Simonds now devotes his time to "sizing up" affairs in a peaceful world, peaceful insofar as armament is concerned, but industrial warfare also carries heavy losses.

Britons, says Simonds, are in a life and death struggle to overcome an economic situation that threatens their very existence. The coal industry has reached a condition in which the question is whether to close the mines or continue the industry, paying wages recognized as below the cost of living.

British taxation has reached a scale almost beyond human endurance. Unemployment has vastly increased. Other vital industries beside coal are slumping with an appalling rate. Value of imports has increased over value of exports.

Food must be imported, while markets for exports are far fewer than before the world war. Forty-five millions of people cannot continue to live within the British Isles under existing conditions. But disquiet is already noted because of a voluntary migration, taking place, is removing the able-bodied and worth-while elements almost exclusively.

A tieup of British mines will have its effect on world prices and coal importations from America will necessarily stimulate the price in America. It behooves the Brainerd householder to think of coal in July and Bill Turcotte's coal parade the other night started a lot of people thinking and buying.

KEEPING HOME STATISTICS

WE sometimes pay small heed to the little memorandum books which carry a place for you to write down the size of your collar, shirt, underwear, socks, your watch number, the number of your car and engine, your tire numbers, etc., and at times the value of gathering and preservation of such information comes with peculiar force.

We refer to Frank Jacquemart of Foley. He was about as careless with his car information as the fisherman who thoughtlessly locked the key to his tackle box in the aforesaid tackle box. Jacquemart is short one Ford coupe, several articles of clothing and his sample case. Car thieves stole his coupe, sample case and all. He could not remember his license number and the car registration card was in the machine.

It pays to keep statistics of your belongings, especially in the automobile line, for the first question asked you by the sheriff, when you seek his aid in finding your car, is car and engine numbers, tire make and numbers, etc. Prompt supplying of such information assists to locate the missing property. By all means keep this data, and if you are too careless, then have the wife or mother do it.

LISTS ARE SOMETIMES NOT UP TO DATE

THE lists for various counties detailing delinquents who have failed to pay their motor taxes, are sometimes far from up to date, and as evidence we recite the experience of C. O. Nelson, editor of the Pillager Herald. As a brother newspaper man he is entitled to sympathy and we hope he can have his case adjusted soon. "Sixty-three persons in Morrison county have been published as delinquent in the payment of their 1925 automobile tax. Among them is the name of the editor of the Pillager Herald, C. O. Nelson, who is claimed to be delinquent on a Ford touring car. The car in question was burned in a garage fire in Bowlus in May, 1924. The burned tags and an affidavit as to the destruction of the car was sent to the office of the Secretary of State soon after, but that office seems to have lost track of its files and now wants to collect the license on the wreck."

"MORE WINDOWS IN YOUR LIFE"

"PUT more windows in your life," says Dr. Leonora Grant in the Osteopathic Magazine, and her argument is a most convincing one.

Most people should have more windows in their lives. Some have only one wee window, others a larger one, but for those with many windows, the vision is broadened. The teacher should not board with a group of teachers, nor a settlement worker live in a settlement house.

One should meet people whose occupations are entirely different, for there is nothing more narrowing than to talk shop continually.

PAPERS of the upper lake region are regaling their readers with fish stories.

Other People's Opinions

Communications are not to exceed 500 words. All must be signed, and will be published with name of writer.

To Editor Dispatch:

My son and daughter six and eight years old came home last night about 8 o'clock, telling the vilest stories about the going on at the Lincoln school play grounds.

Not long ago I and my family were severely criticised for chastising the lad, for being out until 9:30 o'clock. You mothers and fathers would do more good, by following the same rule.

Residents of the Lincoln community take a walk around said play grounds, wood pile plus fire escape. Find out for your own good what our young generation is doing and learning on said premises.

I did talk to one of the girls that told the young babes you may say some crude vile stories. Said girl was not more than twelve years, and is to be pitied for her ignorance in regards to what every girl should know.

Has mentioned several boys names. A word or two for said boys, nay young men, accosting girls of all ages.

Boys, have you no pride? What would you boys do or say if the same words or actions were applied to your sisters.

Could some one enlighten me why said play grounds have no arc light. I for one say down with the demoralizing play grounds.

MRS. R. E. CLARK,

Must Hustle for Business

The rapid improvement of roads may prove a detriment as well as a benefit to business in the smaller towns. This does not mean that road improvements should stop, but it does mean that the business men of the average village must be "on their toes" to a greater extent than ever before.

For an example: A summer resident of the Nebraska colony on Pelican lake was in town a few days ago and offered the statement that the building of the Breezy Point road was a splendid thing for the business interests of Pequot. Before the road was built, nothing in the way of business came here from the colony, now Pequot business places are getting a large share of it, he said. But it should be remembered that this road has two ends. Brainerd interests see the value of the business that is steadily increasing along White Line road No. 10, and have spent a good deal of time and money pushing the improvement of the south end of it.

While the distance from points on the west side of Pelican lake to Brainerd is two to four times what it is to Pequot, distance is nothing like the factor over fine roads that it is over even fairly good roads, and with the improvement of White Line Road No. 10, it is going to require something more than a good road to keep the west Pelican business coming this way.

As we understand it, the state highway department bases its hard-surface road program upon the vehicle counts on the various trunk highways. Doubtless there is keen competition between different sections of the state for this type of road. Is there any possibility that diversion of a part of the traffic from State Highway 19 from Brainerd to Pequot over White Line road No. 10

IS THE FIRST PRINCIPLE OF SUCCESS

CAPITAL

Greater industrial growth for Brainerd and Minnesota is ahead. The logical and only way to build up a community such as this, is to show your own faith in a definite, concrete and practical way. The dollar expended with HOME INDUSTRY eventually returns to the good citizen, who spent it. The dollar sent out of the community for commodities that could be purchased in Brainerd may never return; in fact it seldom does.

These firms and organizations are listed among Brainerd's most enterprising and reputable 'Future Builders'. Co-operate with them and increase the value of the community

ORGANIZED LABOR SEEKS HAPPINESS FOR HUMAN FACTOR IN INDUSTRY

By WILLIAM GREEN

President, American Federation of Labor

ORGANIZED labor seeks to elevate the human factor in industry. It seeks to promote and advance the material, intellectual and social interests of working men and women. Unlike organized capital, which has for its purpose the exploitation of industry for the main purpose of making money, organized labor endeavors, through the collective strength, power and influence of working men and women, to raise living standards and to create opportunities for social, educational and intellectual enjoyment.

I am sure no one will deny that organized labor has succeeded in improving the economic, industrial and social lives of the workers. That fact is generally conceded. In various ways and through the agencies which organized labor has established the working people of our country have been permitted to enjoy more freedom, greater material benefits and superior educational advantages. In support of this allegation it is only necessary for me to refer to the attitude taken by organized labor regarding the protection of children and child life and favoring compulsory education.

legislation in the different states was first inaugurated and always led by the representatives of organized labor. Organized labor contends that the employment of children, at a tender age, in mills, mines, and factories should be discontinued anywhere and everywhere throughout the United States of America. It should not be tolerated or permitted.

Every child in America should be protected against exploitation no matter where it resides. The conservation and protection of children and child life is the concern of every good citizen, and we must be as much interested in saving our neighbors children as we are in saving our own. It is for that reason the American Federation of Labor favors the proposed Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In no other way can standardized and universal protection against exploitation be accorded the unfortunate little children of America.

ORGANIZATION TYPIFIES HUMAN PROGRESS

ALL the marvelous achievements of the human race have been made possible by organization. Civilization itself is due to the cooperation among people of the same neighborhood, the same city, the same state, the same nation and finally, because there has been mutual helpfulness between nations. Without

Only those animals that have lived in communities and exercised the principle of mutual helpfulness have been best able to withstand the destroying forces of nature. Mankind, who has carried organization to the highest point, has made the greatest strides in conquering nature and safeguarding himself against its adverse events.

All great accomplishments call for organization and correlation of human action. A few men working in combination can exert much greater force than many more individuals acting separately. A well organized and drilled regiment can overcome an unorganized mob of vastly greater numbers.

The lone wolf perishes while the pack thrives. The great business combinations pool resources and coordinate activities and achieve bounteous results in economies and in intelligent direction of facilities under control. This is the age of organization, and the element that will not recognize the advantage of united action will be relegated to a position of helpless subservience.

The workers are vast in numbers; but are powerless in the face of the well organized and intelligently directed opposition. If organized and agreed on ends and methods, nothing is beyond the power of the workers to achieve.

Without the trade union there is nothing between the worker and degradation; the employers will

All who live by labor have identical interests, and should combine to advance their common welfare. This is a government of majority rule; and the wealth-producers are the majority and should use their power to protect and promote the welfare of the masses.—Minnesota Union Advocate.

THE workers are by far the majority of the citizenry, and have the economic and political power to mold conditions to suit their own interests. If they do not enjoy the best in the land it is because of ignorance or cowardice. In the last analysis the dependency and destitution of the workers are due to their own stupidity. Let us throw off this loathsome stigma.

THE modern trade union principle has been in operation about 150 years. It came into existence with the introduction of machine production. Other forms of labor organizations prevailed under previous methods of wealth production; but the trade union, as we know it today, is distinctly a concomitant of capitalism with its large scale, machine processes.

"If there is anything of value, it is liberty. Liberty is the air of the soul, the sunshine of life, without which the world is a prison and the universe an infinite dungeon."—Robert G. Ingersoll.

CO-OPERATION

IS THE FIRST PRINCIPLE OF SUCCESS

Greater industrial growth for Brainerd and Minnesota is ahead. The logical and only way to build up a community such as this, is to show your own faith in a definite, concrete and practical way. The dollar expended with HOME INDUSTRY eventually returns to the good citizen, who spent it. The dollar sent out of the community for commodities that could be purchased in Brainerd may never return; in fact it seldom does.

These firms and organizations are listed among Brainerd's most enterprising and reputable 'Future Builders'. Co-operate with them and increase the value of the community

ORGANIZED LABOR SEEKS HAPPINESS FOR HUMAN FACTOR IN INDUSTRY

ORGANIZED labor seeks to elevate the human factor in industry. It seeks to promote and advance the material, intellectual and social interests of working men and women. Unlike organized capital, which has for its purpose the exploitation of industry for the main purpose of making money, organized labor endeavors, through the collective strength, power and influence of working men and women, to raise living standards and to create opportunities for social, educational and intellectual enjoyment.

I am sure no one will deny that organized labor has succeeded in improving the economic, industrial and social lives of the workers. That fact is generally conceded. In various ways and through the agencies which organized labor has established the working people of our country have been permitted to enjoy more freedom, greater material benefits and superior educational advantages. In support of this allegation it is only necessary for me to refer to the attitude taken by organized labor regarding the protection of children and child life and favoring compulsory education.

legislation in the different states was first inaugurated and always led by the representatives of organized labor. Organized labor contends that the employment of children, at a tender age, in mills, mines, and factories should be discontinued anywhere and everywhere throughout the United States of America. It should not be tolerated or permitted.

Every child in America should be protected against exploitation no matter where it resides. The conservation and protection of children and child life is the concern of every good citizen, and we must be as much interested in saving our neighbors children as we are in saving our own. It is for that reason the American Federation of Labor favors the proposed Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In no other way can standardized and universal protection against exploitation be accorded the unfortunate little children of America.

ORGANIZATION TYPIFIES HUMAN PROGRESS

ALL the marvelous achievements of the human race have been made possible by organization. Civilization itself is due to the cooperation among people of the same neighborhood, the same city, the same state, the same nation and finally, because there has been mutual helpfulness between nations. Without

Only those animals that have lived in communities and exercised the principle of mutual helpfulness have been best able to withstand the destroying forces of nature. Mankind, who has carried organization to the highest point, has made the greatest strides in conquering nature and safeguarding himself against its adverse events.

All great accomplishments call for organization and correlation of human action. A few men working in combination can exert much greater force than many more individuals acting separately. A well organized and drilled regiment can overcome an unorganized mob of vastly greater numbers.

The lone wolf perishes while the pack thrives. The great business combinations pool resources and coordinate activities and achieve bounteous results in economies and in intelligent direction of facilities under control. This is the age of organization, and the element that will not recognize the advantage of united action will be relegated to a position of helpless subservience.

The workers are vast in numbers; but are powerless in the face of the well organized and intelligently directed opposition. If organized and agreed on ends and methods, nothing is beyond the power of the workers to achieve.

Without the trade union there is nothing between the worker and degradation; the employers will

All who live by labor have identical interests, and should combine to advance their common welfare. This is a government of majority rule; and the wealth-producers are the majority and should use their power to protect and promote the welfare of the masses.—Minnesota Union Advocate.

THE workers are by far the majority of the citizenry, and have the economic and political power to mold conditions to suit their own interests. If they do not enjoy the best in the land it is because of ignorance or cowardice. In the last analysis the dependency and destitution of the workers are due to their own stupidity. Let us throw off this loathsome stigma.

THE modern trade union principle has been in operation about 150 years. It came into existence with the introduction of machine production. Other forms of labor organizations prevailed under previous methods of wealth production; but the trade union, as we know it today, is distinctly a concomitant of capitalism with its large scale, machine processes.

Scoring seven runs in the first two frames, the B. A. C. team toppled the Elks from their first place position, defeating Van Walk by a score of 7 to 2. Two hit batsmen and four hits, one of them a double by Carlson that cleaned the sacks, netted five scores in the initial stanza, and one free ticket and three hits accounted for the other two runs in the second.

The Elks couldn't do a thing with Soderlund's offerings until the fifth when Imgrund doubled, and Hanson scored him with another double. The Elks made their other run in the last inning, on a walk, two stolen bases, and a sacrifice fly. Imgrund scored both runs for the Elks.

Van Walk was not in form, being touched for nine hits. Soderlund held the Elks to six well scattered hits. The only inning in which the Elks made more than one hit was in the fifth, when they made two doubles, for their first score.

Van Walk had two good innings. In the fourth he got himself into a hole when Thompson doubled and Uddenberg walked, and both advanced on L. Thompson's infield out. Then he struck out the next three, Elling, Carlson and Skiba. In the seventh inning he struck out three in a row, Uddenberg, L. Thompson and Elling.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and Workmen play, and tomorrow the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. play a postponed game.

HURLER TOILS FOR 24 INNINGS IN TWIN BILL

Flint, Mich., July 28. — Francis Lahaie, turned the iron man stunt Sunday when he pitched Bay City to a 5 to 4 and 1 to 0 win over Flint in the Mint league. The first game went 10 innings and the second 14. Flint got 10 hits in the first and six in the second game, while Lahaie was fanning 13 men.

Elephant Most Brainy of the Lower Animals

The elephant is probably the shrewdest and most adaptable of living animals and has no enemies except man. He eats anything that is green, and seems equally at home on the plains or in the forests and jungles, on the high mountain slopes or down in the swampy lowlands. His trunk is one of the most extraordinary organs of nature. It contains the finest smelling apparatus on earth, and when the proximity of man is suspected the trunk is raised in the air and carefully turned in all directions, "feeling" for the man-smell in the wind. Once an elephant gets that smell he does one of two things. He either retreats quietly and rapidly or charges. Years of experience in matching his wiles with those of man and his high-powered rifle has taught the elephant that it is safer to remain in the dense forests. An elephant can move through these forests with no more noise than would be made by a mouse, and the growth in these forests is frequently so impenetrable the hunter can make progress only by following the winding elephant trail.

Many New Shooters

During 1925 several thousand new riflemen will be introduced into the match shooting game. Some will develop rapidly into remarkably good shots. Some of them will develop more slowly, but none the less steadily. All of them will find in existence a well organized system of team selections both for their local club teams, for state teams and for international teams.

In all probability some of this year's group of riflemen will very shortly be turning scores equal to and in some cases higher than the old shooters who have represented the club or the state in matches for years past. When the selection of the 1925 teams comes to be undertaken, those newcomers will be carefully studied by the team officers. Some of them will be given their first chance to win their spurs.

SAUK CENTRE GOLFERS WIN

SUNDAY PLAY; DON BOHMER IS LOW

Sauk Centre, July 28.—Playing a return match with the local club St. Cloud golfers were defeated here Sunday 16 to 3. Seven foursomes participated and of these St. Cloud won one.

Scoring was according to the Nassau system.

Badly defeated at St. Cloud earlier in the season Sauk Centre golfers held revenge as sweet and regretted only the small number of visitors. Low total was made by Don Bohmer who negotiated the course in 45 and 41 for two strokes better than Harrison of the Sauk Centre club.

Shaw On Liars

No man is bad enough to tell the truth about himself during his lifetime, involving, as it must, the truth about his family and friends and colleagues. And no man is good enough to tell the truth to posterity in a document which he suppresses until there is nobody left alive to contradict him.

I speak with the more confidence on the subject because I have myself tried the experiment, within certain timid limits, of being candidly autobiographical.

But I have produced no permanent impression, because nobody has ever believed me. I once told a brilliant London journalist some facts about my family. It is a very large family, running to about 40 first cousins and to innumerable seconds and thirds. Like most large families, it did not consist exclusively of teetotalers; nor did all its members remain until death up to the very moderate legal standard of sanity.

One of them discovered an absolutely original method of committing suicide. It was simple to the verge of triteness; yet no human being had ever thought of it before. It was also amusing. But in the act of carrying it out, my relative jammed the mechanism of his heart—possibly in the paroxysm of laughter, which the mere narration of his suicidal method has never since failed to provoke—and, if I may be allowed to state the result in my Irish way, he died about a second before he succeeded in killing himself.

The coroner's jury found that he died "from natural causes;" and the secret of the suicide was kept, not only from the public, but from most of the family.

I revealed that secret in private conversation to the brilliant journalist aforesaid. He shrieked with laughter, and printed the whole story in his next causerie.

It never for a moment occurred to him that it was true. To this day he regards me as the most reckless liar in London. Meanwhile, the extent to which I stood compromised with my relative's widow and brothers and sisters may be imagined.—George Bernard Shaw in McNaught's.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, DISTRICT OF MINNESOTA, FIFTH DIVISION

In the matter of Ray G. Leavens, Bankrupt, in Bankruptcy.
To the Creditors of Ray G. Leavens, of Brainerd, in the County of Crow Wing, and District aforesaid, Bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1925, the said Ray G. Leavens was duly adjudged a bankrupt and the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of the undersigned, 606 Palladio Building, Duluth, Minnesota, on Friday, the 14th day of August, A. D. 1925, at 11 o'clock A. M. at which time the creditors may attend, prove their claims and elect a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Dated Duluth, Minnesota, July 27, 1925.
WILLIAM O. PEALER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

FRENCH DEPUTIES NARROWLY ESCAPE CHAMBER DUCKING

(By United Press)

Paris, July 28.—A signalling system which has long been in operation in the Chamber of Deputies will have to be changed, according to members, if debates get much more exciting. Deputies with heated brows have narrowly escaped a cold douche and they are said to be ready to vote unanimously against this danger.

The debate, before a full sitting and a crowded gallery, had been fiercer all afternoon when the Communists fanned the flames to the point of fury. Desk covers were pounded, papers were strewn, deputies rushed forward and blows were struck. M. Herriot as president put on his silk hat with a hasty gesture of flight. This is the signal for an adjournment of the session.

Just behind the presidential chair are three buttons reading progressively, "End of Sessions," "Alarm" and "Fire." The official who operates these buttons, doubtless somewhat by the heat, made a quick stab for the buttons when he saw M. Herriot reach for his hat. He fumbled nervously with the button marked "Fire," and would certainly have found it in a second had not his assistant diverted his arm. As his hand slipped it pressed the button marked "Alarm."

guards dashed to their posts, and M. Morain, prefect of Police, who had been awaiting emergencies in the corridors, rushed to duty into the Chamber. The guards kept cool enough to hear the explanation of the error, and opened up for the deputies to emerge into cooler atmosphere.

The honorable deputies laughed heartily when they realized what had happened, but had the fire button been pressed the automatic extinguishers in the ceiling of the assembly room would have sprayed the deputies and visitors with thousands of gallons of water.

Gas Tax Suits

Sparks Magazine by Minnesota State Automobile Association
Apparently the 2c tax assessed on gasoline at the last session of the legislature is getting by in nice shape and with very little complaint from the motorists. Truly it is a painless way of collecting a tax, and we honestly believe it is working out even better than its supporters thought it would.

We understand also that the gas tax is bringing in more money than estimated, with the result that the highway department, even though it didn't get what it asked for from the legislature, is seemingly happy and working tooth and nail to get over a big year's program in spite of the handicap under which they are working. That is just as it should be and we cannot say too much for the wonderful spirit that pervades the highway department organization, from C. M. himself down to the office boy. It's the spirit that accomplishes things and in another two years we haven't any doubt but that the legislature will be less adamant regarding highway matters than they were at the last session.

After January 1 when we get a cut in our annual license fee, although we didn't and still do not approve of the cut, motorists will naturally feel good over the saving between 2.4 per cent and the old rate of 2.75 per cent, only natural they should. So will we, but we'd rather have seen the money in the roads.

There is just one little hitch in the whole proceedings. If the legislators ever attempt to put any of this gas tax money into the general fund, as they have tried to do in other states, it is going to play havoc with the whole program and motorists will rise up in righteous indignation and probably throw over the whole tax scheme as they should.

So let's be happy in paying our automobile and gas tax, so long as we are getting the benefit in the way of good roads, but no longer.

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying.
Read them regularly.

To understand why U.S.
Royal Balloons are known as "the Balloon Tire Principle at its Best," consider these facts—

THE comfort you get out of balloon tires depends on how soft you can run them with safety to the tires.

U.S. Royal Balloons are built in strict accordance with the original conception of balloon tire cushioning—true low air pressure.

They can be run at pressures which actually give you the comfort you expect from a balloon tire.

They do not have to be over-inflated to save them from early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

This is because their flat "Low-Pressure Tread" distributes the weight over a greater tread area than the ordinary round tread.

The entire surface of the tread comes in contact with the road.

The tire itself is built of the famous Latex-treated Web Cord, which gives the maximum strength and maximum flexibility so essential to balloon cushioning.

Put U.S. Royal Balloons on your car and enjoy the comfort of riding on genuine low air pressure.

Two hit batsmen and four hits, one of them a double by Carlson that cleaned the sacks, netted five scores in the initial stanza, and one free ticket and three hits accounted for the other two runs in the second.

The Elks couldn't do a thing with Soderlund's offerings until the fifth when Imgrund doubled, and Hanson scored him with another double. The Elks made their other run in the last inning, on a walk, two stolen bases, and a sacrifice fly. Imgrund scored both runs for the Elks.

Van Walk was not in form, being touched for nine hits. Soderlund held the Elks to six well scattered hits. The only inning in which the Elks made more than one hit was in the fifth, when they made two doubles, for their first score.

Van Walk had two good innings. In the fourth he got himself into a hole when Thompson doubled and Uddenberg walked, and both advanced on L. Thompson's infield out. Then he struck out the next three, Elling, Carlson and Skiba. In the seventh inning he struck out three in a row, Uddenberg, L. Thompson and Elling.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and Workmen play, and tomorrow the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. play a postponed game.

HURLER TOILS FOR 24
INNINGS IN TWIN BILL

Flint, Mich., July 28. — Francis Lahaie, turned the iron man stunt Sunday when he pitched Bay City to a 5 to 4 and 1 to 0 win over Flint in the Mint league. The first game went 10 innings and the second 14. Flint got 10 hits in the first and six in the second game, while Lahaie was fanning 13 men.

Elephant Most Brainy
of the Lower Animals

The elephant is probably the shrewdest and most adaptable of living animals and has no enemies except man. He eats anything that is green, and seems equally at home on the plains or in the forests and jungles, on the high mountain slopes or down in the swampy lowlands. His trunk is one of the most extraordinary organs of nature. It contains the finest smelling apparatus on earth, and when the proximity of man is suspected the trunk is raised in the air and carefully turned in all directions, "feeling" for the man-smell in the wind. Once an elephant gets that smell he does one of two things. He either retreats quietly and rapidly or charges. Years of experience in matching his wiles with those of man and his high-powered rifle has taught the elephant that it is safer to remain in the dense forests. An elephant can move through these forests with no more noise than would be made by a mouse, and the growth in these forests is frequently so impenetrable the hunter can make progress only by following the winding elephant trail.

Many New Shooters

During 1925 several thousand new riflemen will be introduced into the match shooting game. Some will develop rapidly into remarkably good shots. Some of them will develop more slowly, but none the less steadily. All of them will find in existence a well organized system of team selections both for their local club teams, for state teams and for international teams.

In all probability some of this year's group of riflemen will very shortly be turning scores equal to and in some cases higher than the old shooters who have represented the club or the state in matches for years past. When the selection of the 1925 teams comes to be undertaken, those newcomers will be carefully studied by the team officers. Some of them will be given their first chance to win their spurs.

SUNDAY PLAY; DON BOHMER IS LOW

Sauk Centre, July 28.—Playing a return match with the local club St. Cloud golfers were defeated here Sunday 16 to 3. Seven foursomes participated and of these St. Cloud won one.

Scoring was according to the Nassau system.

Badly defeated at St. Cloud earlier in the season Sauk Centre golfers held revenge as sweet and regretted only the small number of visitors. Low total was made by Don Bohmer who negotiated the course in 45 and 41 for two strokes better than Harrison of the Sauk Centre club.

Shaw On Liars

All autobiographies are lies. I do not mean unconscious, unintentional lies; I mean deliberate lies.

No man is bad enough to tell the truth about himself during his lifetime, involving, as it must, the truth about his family and friends and colleagues. And no man is good enough to tell the truth to posterity in a document which he suppresses until there is nobody left alive to contradict him.

I speak with the more confidence on the subject because I have myself tried the experiment, within certain timid limits, of being candidly autobiographical.

But I have produced no permanent impression, because nobody has ever believed me. I once told a brilliant London journalist some facts about my family. It is a very large family, running to about 40 first cousins and to innumerable seconds and thirds. Like most large families, it did not consist exclusively of teetotalers; nor did all its members remain until death up to the very moderate legal standard of sanity.

One of them discovered an absolutely original method of committing suicide. It was simple to the verge of triteness; yet no human being had ever thought of it before. It was also amusing. But in the act of carrying it out, my relative jammed the mechanism of his heart—possibly in the paroxysm of laughter, which the mere narration of his suicidal method has never since failed to provoke—and, if I may be allowed to state the result in my Irish way, he died about a second before he succeeded in killing himself.

The coroner's jury found that he died "from natural causes;" and the secret of the suicide was kept, not only from the public, but from most of the family.

I revealed that secret in private conversation to the brilliant journalist aforesaid. He shrieked with laughter, and printed the whole story in his next causerie.

It never for a moment occurred to him that it was true. To this day he regards me as the most reckless liar in London. Meanwhile, the extent to which I stood compromised with my relative's widow and brothers and sisters may be imagined.—George Bernard Shaw in McNaught's.

FRENCH DEPUTIES
NARROWLY ESCAPE
CHAMBER DUCKING

(By United Press)

Paris, July 28.—A signalling system which has long been in operation in the Chamber of Deputies will have to be changed, according to members, if debates get much more exciting. Deputies with heated brows have narrowly escaped a cold douche and they are said to be ready to vote unanimously against this danger.

The debate, before a full sitting and a crowded gallery, had been fiery all afternoon when the Communists fanned the flames to the point of fury. Desk covers were pounded, papers were strewn, deputies rushed forward and blows were struck. M. Herriot as president put on his silk hat with a hasty gesture of flight. This is the signal for an adjournment of the session.

Just behind the presidential chair are three buttons reading progressively, "End of Sessions," "Alarm" and "Fire." The official who operates these buttons, doubtless somewhat by the heat, made a quick stab for the buttons when he saw M. Herriot reach for his hat. He fumbled nervously with the button marked "Fire," and would certainly have found it in a second had not his assistant diverted his arm. As his hand slipped it pressed the button marked "Alarm."

guards dashed to their posts, and M. Morain, prefect of Police, who had been awaiting emergencies in the corridors, rushed to duty into the Chamber. The guards kept cool enough to hear the explanation of the error, and opened up for the deputies to emerge into cooler atmosphere.

The honorable deputies laughed heartily when they realized what had happened, but had the fire button been pressed the automatic extinguishers in the ceiling of the assembly room would have sprayed the deputies and visitors with thousands of gallons of water.

Gas Tax Suits

Apparently the 2c tax assessed on gasoline at the last session of the legislature is getting by in nice shape and with very little complaint from the motorists. Truly it is a painless way of collecting a tax, and we honestly believe it is working out even better than its supporters thought it would.

We understand also that the gas tax is bringing in more money than estimated, with the result that the highway department, even though it didn't get what it asked for from the legislature, is seemingly happy and working tooth and nail to get over a big year's program in spite of the handicap under which they are working. That is just as it should be and we cannot say too much for the wonderful spirit that pervades the highway department organization, from C. M. himself down to the office boy. It's the spirit that accomplishes things and in another two years we haven't any doubt but that the legislature will be less adamant regarding highway matters than they were at the last session.

After January 1 when we get a cut in our annual license fee, although we didn't and still do not approve of the cut, motorists will naturally feel good over the saving between 2.4 per cent and the old rate of 2.75 per cent, only natural things and in another two years we haven't any doubt but that the legislature will be less adamant regarding highway matters than they were at the last session.

There is just one little hitch in the whole proceedings. If the legislators ever attempt to put any of this gas tax money into the general fund, as they have tried to do in other states, it is going to play havoc with the whole program and motorists will rise up in righteous indignation and probably throw over the whole tax scheme as they should.

To understand why U.S. Royal Balloons are known as "the Balloon Tire Principle at its Best," consider these facts—

THE comfort you get out of balloon tires depends on how soft you can run them with safety to the tires.

U.S. Royal Balloons are built in strict accordance with the original conception of balloon tire cushioning—true low air pressure.

They can be run at pressures which actually give you the comfort you expect from a balloon tire.

They do not have to be over-inflated to save them from early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

This is because their flat "Low-Pressure Tread" distributes the weight over a greater tread area than the ordinary round tread.

The entire surface of the tread comes in contact with the road.

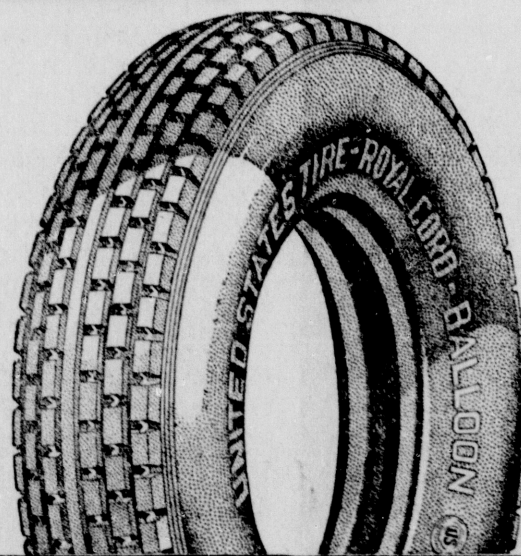

The tire itself is built of the famous Latex-treated Web Cord, which gives the maximum strength and maximum flexibility so essential to balloon cushioning.

Put U.S. Royal Balloons on your car and enjoy the comfort of riding on genuine low air pressure.

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

ODD FELLOW SPECIAL WORK

Second and Third Degrees to be Conferred, Installation of Officers and Luncheon

At the regular meeting of Unit Lodge I. O. O. F. to be held Wednesday evening, July 29th, special work is to be conferred in the second and third degrees. This to be followed with installation of officers and close the evening's work with a good lunch.

Quite a number of Odd Fellow are expected in from the surrounding countryside to witness one of their number journey to Jericho. Work will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Experience Teaches

(Northfield Independent)

A business concern that maintains a fleet of several hundred roadsters throughout the country found that it cost 6.4 cents a mile to operate a car in California, where roads are always good for automobile traffic, while in states where roads are poor the cost was 8.7 cents per mile, despite the fact that the original cost of cars in California is slightly higher. This forms a real test of the value of good roads. Good, hard-surfaced roads come high in construction cost, but they save every car owner real money in operating expense, the total of which for all cars on a heavily traveled road will soon pay for the cost of improvement. A comparison of the figures cited above will show that the difference is 2.3 cents per mile in favor of the hard-surfaced roads—less than what the Minnesota car owner pays in tax per gallon of gasoline. Figuring that a gallon propels his car 15 miles, the Minnesota car owner is saved more than 30 cents in the operation of his automobile on a paved road, while the special gasoline tax which he pays for such improvement is only two cents.

Lively's stock of Ford parts is complete in every detail. Open day and night.

MANY TOURISTS AT GLACIER PARK

(By United Press)

Glacier Park, Mont., July 28.—More tourists visited Glacier National Park in the first month of this season than during any similar period in the 16 years existence of the park.

Visitors arriving by rail increased 8 per cent over last year and those arriving by automobile increased 15 per cent over last year. Attendance for the season probably will break all records, officials estimating this year will witness about 40,000 tourists at the park.

Harn-Wagner

Harry Harn and Miss Pearl Wagner were united in marriage at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Congregational church, Rev. N. P. Olmsted officiating. The couple was attended by Earl Wagner, brother of the bride, and Miss Ruth Harn, sister of the groom. The bride carried a bouquet of beautiful white roses. The bridesmaid carried pink carnations.

The groom is a son of a prominent farmer at Verndale. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wagner, 1107 Fourth avenue, Northeast, and made her home in Brainerd for the past two years.

On the following morning the happy couple left for Verndale, where they will make their future home.

CONCERT WED.

Takes Place at Lum Park, and Not Gregory Park as First Scheduled

BREEZY POINT ORCHESTRA

Will Play For Dance, Breezy Point Lodge to Send a Large Delegation

The regular weekly concert of the Brainerd Municipal band will again be held at Lum park this Wednesday evening, instead of at Gregory park as was at first scheduled. This change was made to accommodate the local chapter of the American Red Cross, which is staging a life saving demonstration and instruction under the supervision of Alfred S. Moreau, expert sent out by the National Red Cross.

The concert will start at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, while Mr. Moreau's demonstrations will begin an hour earlier, and it is hoped that the public will make an effort to be at the park at 7 o'clock so that none of the valuable demonstrations will be missed.

The program for the concert, has been announced by Director W. R. Hiller, as follows:

1. March, "Frontier Echoes"—Watson.
2. Overture, "Radiant"—Kiefer.
3. Foxtrot, selected.
4. "Mountain Maiden's Dream," Lyle-Labitzky.
5. Special number, "Slippery Hank," a trombone smear—Losey.
6. "La Paloma,"—Spanish serenade.
7. March, "The Old Circus Band."
8. Overture, "Revery"—Jewell.
9. Foxtrot, selected.
10. Overture, "The Golden Sceptre"—Schleppergrell.
11. March, "Rain Clouds"—Murphy.
12. Star Spangled Banner.

Following the band concert and Mr. Moreau's demonstrations, there will be a dance in the Lum park pavilion, the famous Breezy Point orchestra furnishing the music.

This orchestra, one of the leading dance organizations from the twin cities, was brought to Breezy Point especially for the summer season, and has gained much favorable recognition, both by guests at the resort and by the many local people who have taken advantage of the opportunity, and have attended the dances at Breezy Point.

This will be the first appearance of the orchestra in Brainerd, but because its fame has spread so widely, it is expected that the Lum park pavilion will be crowded with local people as well as tourists, who are expressing the desire to dance to the music of these melody makers. The orchestra has promised to bring a large delegation down from Breezy Point for the occasion, and one of the most enjoyable functions of its kind this season will no doubt be the result. The public is invited and urged to attend this dance.

ODD FELLOW SPECIAL WORK

Second and Third Degrees to be Conferred, Installation of Officers and Luncheon

At the regular meeting of Unit Lodge I. O. O. F. to be held Wednesday evening, July 29th, special work is to be conferred in the second and third degrees. This to be followed with installation of officers and close the evening with a good lunch.

Quite a number of Odd Fellows are expected in from the surrounding countryside to witness one of their number journey to Jericho. Work will start at 7:30 o'clock.

(Northfield Independent)

A business concern that maintains a fleet of several hundred roadsters throughout the country found that it cost 6.4 cents a mile to operate a car in California, where roads are always good for automobile traffic, while in states where roads are poor the cost was 8.7 cents per mile, despite the fact that the original cost of cars in California is slightly higher. This forms a real test of the value of good roads. Good, hard-surfaced roads come high in construction cost, but they save every car owner real money in operating expense, the total of which for all cars on a heavily traveled road will soon pay for the cost of improvement. A comparison of the figures cited above will show that the difference is 2.3 cents per mile in favor of the hard-surfaced roads—less than what the Minnesota car owner pays in tax per gallon of gasoline. Figuring that a gallon propels his car 15 miles, the Minnesota car owner is saved more than 30 cents in the operation of his automobile on a paved road, while the special gasoline tax which he pays for such improvement is only two cents.

GEO. WINKLER DIED

Minneapolis Man Spending Vacation at Lakes, Died at Local Hospital

George Winkler, of Minneapolis, spending his vacation at nearby lakes, passed away early this Tuesday morning at a local hospital, death resulting from complications.

Mr. Winkler was born in Austria, September 12, 1840. He was a butcher by trade, but had lived retired for many years, at 1406 Fifteenth avenue north, Minneapolis.

The remains were prepared for burial at the B. C. McNamara undertaking parlors, and were sent to Minneapolis on the afternoon train.

ADJOURNED TERM DISTRICT COURT

Resumed Sessions at the Court House Today, Civil Case on Trial

JUDGE WRIGHT ON THE BENCH

O'Brien Mercantile Co. Has an Action Against Daggett Brook Township

An adjourned term of the district court is in session at the court house, the first case being tried is that of the O'Brien Mercantile Co., a corporation, against the township of Daggett Brook.

Judge B. F. Wright of Park Rapids is on the bench. This is the second adjourned term held since the regular term of the district court in May. The adjournments were made necessary because of the fact that some cases on the calendar were not ready for trial when called at the regular term.

(By United Press)
Fargo, July 28.—Dr. D. C. Darrow, accused of second degree murder for the death of Jessie Stejskal was bound over to the grand jury after a preliminary hearing before Justice Bingham late Monday. He was released again on $10,000 bail. Dr. Darrow is alleged to have performed an illegal operation upon the young woman who died in his office.

MANY TOURISTS AT GLACIER PARK

(By United Press)
Glacier Park, Mont., July 28.—More tourists visited Glacier National Park in the first month of this season than during any similar period in the 16 years existence of the park.

Visitors arriving by rail increased 8 per cent over last year and those arriving by automobile increased 15 per cent over last year. Attendance for the season probably will break all records, officials estimating this year will witness about 40,000 tourists at the park.

Harn-Wagner

Harry Harn and Miss Pearl Wagner were united in marriage at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Congregational church, Rev. N. P. Olmsted officiating. The couple was attended by Earl Wagner, brother of the bride, and Miss Ruth Harn, sister of the groom. The bride carried a bouquet of beautiful white roses. The bridesmaid carried pink carnations.

The groom is a son of a prominent farmer at Verndale. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wagner, 1107 Fourth avenue, Northeast, and made her home in Brainerd for the past two years.

A delicious informal supper was served at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The rooms were prettily decorated with sweet peas and carnations.

On the following morning the happy couple left for Verndale, where they will make their future home.

CONCERT WED.

Will Play For Dance, Breezy Point Lodge to Send a Large Delegation

The regular weekly concert of the Brainerd Municipal band will again be held at Lum park this Wednesday evening, instead of at Gregory park as was at first scheduled. This change was made to accommodate the local chapter of the American Red Cross, which is staging a life saving demonstration and instruction under the supervision of Alfred S. Moreau, expert sent out by the National Red Cross.

The concert will start at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, while Mr. Moreau's demonstrations will begin an hour earlier, and it is hoped that the public will make an effort to be at the park at 7 o'clock so that none of the valuable demonstrations will be missed.

The program for the concert, has been announced by Director W. R. Hiller, as follows:

1. March, "Frontier Echoes"—Watson.
2. Overture, "Radiant"—Kiefer.
3. Foxtrot, selected.
4. "Mountain Maiden's Dream," Ildy—Labitzky.
5. Special number, "Slippery Hank," a trombone smear—Losey.
6. "La Paloma," Spanish serenade.
7. March, "The Old Circus Band."
8. Overture, "Revery"—Jewell.
9. Foxtrot, selected.
10. Overture, "The Golden Sceptre"—Schlegel.
11. March, "Rain Clouds"—Murphy.
12. Star Spangled Banner.

Following the band concert and Mr. Moreau's demonstrations, there will be a dance in the Lum park pavilion, the famous Breezy Point orchestra furnishing the music.

This orchestra, one of the leading dance organizations from the twin cities, was brought to Breezy Point especially for the summer season, and has gained much favorable recognition, both by guests at the resort and by the many local people who have taken advantage of the opportunity, and have attended the dances at Breezy Point.

This will be the first appearance of the orchestra in Brainerd, but because its fame has spread so widely, it is expected that the Lum park pavilion will be crowded with local people as well as tourists, who are expressing the desire to dance to the music of these melody makers. The orchestra has promised to bring a large delegation down from Breezy Point for the occasion, and one of the most enjoyable functions of its kind this season will no doubt be the result. The public is invited and urged to attend this dance.

MANY FLAVORS FROM WHICH TO SELECT

BRITISH TRACK STARS DID WELL HERE

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 23.—America's victory in the recent international meet when the Yale-Harvard combination won from Oxford and Cambridge, was nothing worth shouting about. The British collegians won as many first places as the Americans. The English system of scoring points would have ended the meet in a tie with every one satisfied, but the American officials had decided before the meet that second places would be counted in the event of a tie and the meet went to Yale and Harvard on second places.

Considering that the British team couldn't have the material to select from that the Americans had and that they were handicapped by the lack of funds, this scoring system was not exactly fair. It would have been more sporting in the Americans to have accepted a tie and nothing would have been lost.

One of the most interesting performances of the meet was that of Sabin Carr, the Yale Freshman, in winning the pole vault. He did 13 feet with such ease that veteran critics were willing to predict that he has the possibility of a 14-foot vault. He is only eighteen years of age and he has just begun to mature and develop physically. With three years of good coaching and training ahead of him he is likely to become a new world's record holder.

For the second time this season in a major race, a mistake was made in awarding first place at the recent 250-mile automobile race at Laurel, and for the second time Peter De Paolo was found to have been the winner when a re-check was made after the race.

Considering that the timers and checkers are all experienced men, it seems singular that they should have been wrong at Altoona and at Laurel in announcing the victor.

In each race De Paolo, who has cinched the season's championship, was not credited with a lap and it is peculiar that a champion should receive such little attention.

After the Altoona race the drivers demanded of the association that some better methods of scoring be adopted but they could not answer the question—what is to be done?

For three years he had placed his stable first in season's winning and had set one record of $438,000.

"Nothing like that this year," he said. "I haven't got a thing." He expressed the same brand of optimism that Gil Dobie, Pop Vail and other gloomies have made famous.

40—Resistance of the Ball.

Here's an interesting experiment; and it has the advantage of proving something every golfer should know. You can get the proof indoors, but try it at an indoor school or outdoors if possible.

Drop a ball and tap it forward a foot or two with your driver. The ball does not offer much resistance, but you can feel it. Hit the ball again and again, each time a little harder. Note carefully the fact that the harder you hit it the less you can feel the resistance. If you are where you can take a full swing at the ball you will find that you cannot feel the resistance at all. Of course you know from your study of physics that the resistance increases the faster it is moved from a stationary position. The point to anchor in mind is that the resistance is so small as to be negligible in making the swing. It requires no extra amount of muscle to set the ball in motion.

Now comes the point that it is not the muscle used in the swing that counts, beyond the amount necessary to make the swing perfectly. The thing that counts is the speed and facing of the club-head. Get the full reasoning as we go along. Granted enough muscle to control the club and that the resistance of the ball seems negligible, the necessary thing to do is to use the muscles to add speed to the club-head. The very last way on earth to do this is to apply brute force with tense muscles. "Deisarte" by relaxing all your muscles until the beginning of the down swing. Without any thinking about it, you will apply all the muscle that is necessary if you keep in mind the only necessary thing—to hit through the ball.

More will be said on this point, but try this when you are addressing the ball. If your legs are straight, relax the knees just a trifle, enough to remove any feeling of stiffness. Without lifting the club-head, bend the wrists forward and backward on the line to the hole in order to be sure there is no stiffness there or in the arms, and then go slowly back with the club, keeping it under perfect control with the left hand and be sure that at no time does any muscle feel tense. If you have the feeling of doing this correctly, you can throw the club-head at the ball as hard as you wish.

Masters of Short Story

No one is in a position to say which nation has produced the greatest short story writers. Russia, France, England and the United States are noted for literature of this class. The French regard Edgar Allan Poe with special esteem and some of the French critics credit him with being "the father of the short story."

BRAINERD WON,
20 POINTS, FROM

RAIN LATE IN AFTERNOON DEFERRED COMPILING SCORES

BRAINERD PLAYERS WON IN EVERY FOURSOME EXCEPT FIRST

Brainerd defeated Little Falls by at least 20 points in the golf tournament held in the latter city on Sunday afternoon. Owing to the fact that rain late in the afternoon interrupted play, and the foursomes that continued afterward did not turn in their scores, the exact number that Brainerd defeated her opponents is not known.

Brainerd players won in every foursome except the first, which is considered an exceptional record. J. S. Lewis in the winning foursome for Little Falls, established a new course record for his club by being the first one to make this course in par. With this fact taken into consideration, the Brainerd men playing against him feel that they did well to hold their defeat at the low figure of only two points.

The foursomes playing in the tournament are as follows:

Lewis and Longley defeated Joe Ryan and Egan. Hiller and Hiller defeated Landahl and Folger. C. A. Ryan and M. E. Ryan defeated Watson and Miller, Seiger and D. Ryan defeated Flolid and Chas. Jensen, Orne and Herzog defeated N. J. Peterson and Woodworth, Dr. Nordia and Erickson defeated Dr. Watson and Dr. Pollendorf, Wright and Russell defeated Mark Jensen and Wessel, Smith defeated Burton Peterson. After the tournament the Brainerd members, their wives and families were entertained at the Elks club by the Little Falls golf club.

NEW MOTORBOAT
HORSEPOWER ENGINE

New York, July 23.—"Hundred to One Shot" is the nickname boat racing sharks have hung onto Alec Johnson's new Yankee Doodle. The sobriquet comes from the fact that the boat carries about 160 horsepower for every foot of her length. She is approximately 24 feet overall and carries 2,400 horsepower engines.

Recent trials on Long Island sound have formed the basis for conclusions that Yankee Doodle will be able to set up new world records for straight-away mile trials. The mile mark is now held by Car Wood at 80,567 M. P. H. It was made in Detroit in 1921 and has stood longer than most speed boat records usually stand.

The attempt to break this record will be made on Manhasset bay, during the Gold Cup regatta, on Aug. 27-30.

Not only is Yankee Doodle to make the effort to wrest away from Car Wood the world's time mark; but he is going after the latest Gar Wood speed productions. At the conclusion of the Manhasset Bay Gold Cup affair Alec Johnson is to hustle Yankee Doodle westward to Detroit where it will clash with the Gar Wood entries in a regatta on the Detroit river into which foreign competition is expected. Johnson is a veteran racing man, with years of experience in speed craft behind him and he is unwavering in his belief that eighty miles per hour will be easy to beat and that Yankee Doodle, with her marvelous power plant, can turn the trick without being forced.

SWIM ENGLISH
CHANNEL

Cape Gris, Nez., France, July 23.—Miss Gertrude Ederle, America's young swimming star, will make her greatest bid for fame one week from today.

Miss Ederle and her advisers have selected Monday, Aug. 3, as the date when the Yankee girl, filled with courage and optimism, will tackle a feat never so far accomplished by a woman, the swimming of the dreaded English channel.

Miss Ederle, carefully trained and conditioned by a veterans British swimmer, who knows the treacherous channel like no one else, has high hopes of being the first woman to make the trip.

The American girl is reported as being in perfect condition.

Japan Awaits Babe

(By United Press)

Tokyo, July 23.—The report that reached Japan recently from the United States that "Babe" Ruth has been offered $15,000 to tour this country next fall has created quite a bit of interest here. The Japanese are great baseball fans, and take to it naturally, as teams from their universities that have toured America prove. A tour by the King of Swat in Nippon ought to get over big.

BRITISH TRACK STARS DID WELL HERE

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 23.—America's victory in the recent international meet when the Yale-Harvard combination won from Oxford and Cambridge, was nothing worth shouting about. The British collegians won as many first places as the Americans. The English system of scoring points would have ended the meet in a tie with every one satisfied, but the American officials had decided before the meet that second places would be counted in the event of a tie and the meet went to Yale and Harvard on second places.

Considering that the British team couldn't have the material to select from that the Americans had and that they were handicapped by the lack of funds, this scoring system was not exactly fair. It would have been more sporting in the Americans to have accepted a tie and nothing would have been lost.

One of the most interesting performances of the meet was that of Sabin Carr, the Yale Freshman, in winning the pole vault. He did 13 feet with such ease that veteran critics were willing to predict that he has the possibility of a 14-foot vault. He is only eighteen years of age and he has just begun to mature and develop physically. With three years of good coaching and training ahead of him he is likely to become a new world's record holder.

For the second time this season in a major race, a mistake was made in awarding first place at the recent 250-mile automobile race at Laurel, and for the second time Peter De Paolo was found to have been the winner when a re-check was made after the race.

Considering that the timers and checkers are all experienced men, it seems singular that they should have been wrong at Altoona and at Laurel in announcing the victor.

In each race De Paolo, who has clinched the season's championship, was not credited with a lap and it is peculiar that a champion should receive such little attention.

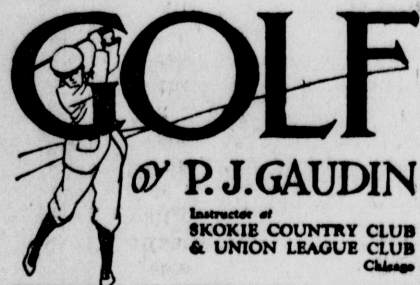

After the Altoona race the drivers demanded of the association that some better methods of scoring be adopted but they could not answer the question—what is to be done?

Before the racing season started, Sam Hildreth, trainer for Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas Stable, almost wept when he was discussing his prospects for the season.

For three years he had placed his stable first in season's winning and had set one record of $438,000.

"Nothing like this year," he said. "I haven't got a thing." He expressed the same brand of optimism that Gil Dobie, Pop Vail and other gloomies have made famous.

40—Resistance of the Ball.

Here's an interesting experiment; and it has the advantage of proving something every golfer should know. You can get the proof indoors, but try it at an indoor school or outdoors if possible.

Drop a ball and tap it forward a foot or two with your driver. The ball does not offer much resistance, but you can feel it. Hit the ball again and again, each time a little harder. Note carefully the fact that the harder you hit it the less you can feel the resistance. If you are where you can take a full swing at the ball you will find that you cannot feel the resistance at all. Of course you know from your study of physics that the resistance increases the faster it is moved from a stationary position. The point to anchor in mind is that the resistance is so small as to be negligible in making the swing. It requires no extra amount of muscle to set the ball in motion.

Now comes the point that it is not the muscle used in the swing that counts, beyond the amount necessary to make the swing perfectly. The thing that counts is the speed and facing of the club-head. Get the full reasoning as we go along. Granted enough muscle to control the club and that the resistance of the ball seems negligible, the necessary thing to do is to use the muscles to add speed to the club-head. The very last way on earth to do this is to apply brute force with tense muscles. "Delsarte" by relaxing all your muscles until the beginning of the down swing. Without any thinking about it, you will apply all the muscle that is necessary if you keep in mind the only necessary thing—to hit through the ball.

More will be said on this point, but try this when you are addressing the ball. If your legs are straight, relax the knees just a trifle, enough to remove any feeling of stiffness. Without lifting the club-head, bend the wrists forward and backward on the line to the hole in order to be sure there is no stiffness there or in the arms, and then go slowly back with the club, keeping it under perfect control with the left hand and be sure that at no time does any muscle feel tense. If you have the feeling of doing this correctly, you can throw the club-head at the ball as hard as you wish.

Masters of Short Story

No one is in a position to say which nation has produced the greatest short story writers. Russia, France, England and the United States are noted for literature of this class. The French regard Edgar Allan Poe with special esteem and some of the French critics credit him with being "the father of the short story."

20 POINTS, FROM

RAIN LATE IN AFTERNOON DEFERRED COMPILING SCORES

Brainerd defeated Little Falls by at least 20 points in the golf tournament held in the latter city on Sunday afternoon. Owing to the fact that rain late in the afternoon interrupted play, and the foursomes that continued afterward did not turn in their scores, the exact number that Brainerd defeated her opponents is not known.

Brainerd players won in every foursome except the first, which is considered an exceptional record. J. S. Levis in the winning foursome for Little Falls, established a new course record for his club by being the first one to make this course in par. With this fact taken into consideration, the Brainerd men playing against him feel that they did well to hold their defeat at the low figure of only two points.

The foursomes playing in the tournament are as follows:

Levis and Longley defeated Joe Ryan and Egan. Hiller and Hiller defeated Landahl and Folger. C. A. Ryan and M. E. Ryan defeated Watson and Miller, Seiger and D. Ryan defeated Flolid and Chas. Jensen, Orne and Herzog defeated N. J. Peterson and Woodworth, Dr. Nordia and Erickson defeated Dr. Watson and Dr. Pollendorf, Wright and Russell defeated Mark Jensen and Wessel, Smith defeated Burton Peterson. After the tournament the Brainerd members, their wives and families were entertained at the Elks club by the Little Falls golf club.

HORSEPOWER ENGINE

New York, July 23.—"Hundred to One Shot" is the nickname boat racing sharks have hung onto Alec Johnson's new Yankee Doodle. The sobriquet comes from the fact that the boat carries about 100 horsepower for every foot of her length. She is approximately 24 feet overall and carries 2,400 horsepower engines.

Recent trials on Long Island sound have formed the basis for conclusions that Yankee Doodle will be able to set up new world records for straight-away mile trials. The mile mark is now held by Gar Wood at 80.567 M. P. H. It was made in Detroit in 1921 and has stood longer than most speed boat records usually stand.

The attempt to break this record will be made on Manhasset bay, during the Gold Cup regatta, on Aug. 27-30.

Not only is Yankee Doodle to make the effort to wrest away from Gar Wood the world's time mark; but he is going after the latest Gar Wood speed productions. At the conclusion of the Manhasset Bay Gold Cup affair Alec Johnson is to hustle Yankee Doodle westward to Detroit where it will clash with the Gar Wood entries in a regatta on the Detroit river into which foreign competition is expected. Johnson is a veteran racing man, with years of experience in speed craft behind him and he is unwavering in his belief that eighty miles per hour will be easy to beat and that Yankee Doodle, with her marvelous power plant, can turn the trick without being forced.

TASK IN A WEEK

MAY GERTRUDE EDERLE TO SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

Cape Gris, Nez., France, July 23.—Miss Gertrude Ederle, America's young swimming star, will make her greatest bid for fame one week from today.

Miss Ederle and her advisers have selected Monday, Aug. 3, as the date when the Yankee girl, filled with courage and optimism, will tackle a feat never so far accomplished by a woman, the swimming of the dreaded English channel.

Miss Ederle, carefully trained and conditioned by a veterans British swimmer, who knows the treacherous channel like no one else, has high hopes of being the first woman to make the trip.

Japan Awaits Babe

(By United Press)

Tokyo, July 23.—The report that reached Japan recently from the United States that "Babe" Ruth has been offered $15,000 to tour this country next fall has created quite a bit of interest here. The Japanese are great baseball fans, and take to it naturally, as teams from their universities that have toured America prove. A tour by the King of Swat in Nippon ought to get over big.
